Niedringhaus improvements

Improvement of the railroad grade crossing on Niedringhaus Avenue — to include complete automatic signalization and widening of the street for crossing approaches — is scheduled to get under way Monday.

The work will mean a complete shutdown of the rail crossing on Niedringhaus Avenue for about four weeks. City Highway and Traffic Engineer Edward Schulte told City Council members Tuesday night. Schulte said work by the Terminal Railroad Association, scheduled to start Monday, will require about three weeks. After the crossing is replaced, the city will resurface and widen Niedringhaus Avenue for approximately one-half block on each side of the tracks. That work will require another week, he said.

Compensation out of control

The Granite City auto frame plant of A. O. Smith Corporation is safe, judging by its frequency of disabling injuries per million manhours — 1.7 in 1977 and 1.48 in 1978, compared to 10.87 for all industries and 13.16 in industries similar to the local plant.

The same plant might appear unsafe, based on its workmen's compensation record since the enactment of liberalizing amendments by Illinois legislators in 1975. A chiropractor is seeing 30 to 40 Smith employees a day, receiving $55,297 from the company for his services in the year of June 1977-May 1978, Plant Manager Paul H. Kelly said at yesterday's Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast.

With many of them citing back injuries, ailing workers have increased from 49 in 1975 to 108 in 1976, 331 in 1977 and 306 in the first seven months of 1978 — a trend indicating that one-fourth of the staff may have filed claims by the end of this year, Kelly said.

Costs for workmen's compensation at the frame plant have risen from 7 1/2 cents for each manhour worked in 1975 to 13.8

cents, 20.3 cents and 42.3 cents in 1976-77-78, the breakfast gathering was told. Costs to Smith were $356,000 in 1976, $726,000 last year and $739,601 in January-July 1978.

Typical charges are $45 for an examination, $105 for X-rays and $45 for a belt, followed by visits costing $15 each. One employee made 162 office visits in a year's time, charts projected on a screen showed at the meeting.

In some cases, after long treatment, the corporation at considerable expense has had a worker visit additional doctors. When there are recommendations that Workmen's compensation costs of Illinois employers have skyrocketed since 1974. A survey of 460 revealed their WC costs soared from $20,000,000 in 1974 to $145,000,000 in 1977.

This is a jump of nearly 400 percent in just three years. The unprecedented rise was the total dollar rise for all 460 firms. For half of these firms, the rise was above 400 percent.

For about one-fourth of these manufacturers, WC costs since 1974 have skyrocketed by 500 percent, 1,000 percent, 1,500 percent and even as high as 2,000 percent in just three years.

The hard statistics above give strong support to the claims of many Illinois manufacturers and other employers that they have been staggered by rising WC costs.

In view of these escalating costs, it is not surprising that a few employers have left the state, or have shut down.

What is even more disturbing is the future. Many employers are frank to say

Plant hopes to stay here

While many of its plants are located in Illinois, A. O. Smith Corp. has scheduled all of its expansions in the last several years for states other than Illinois due to a worsening "climate" for industry, yesterday's monthly prayer breakfast gathering was told.

Paul H. Kelly, manager of the Granite City auto frame plant, stressed that the company hopes to continue plant operations here but has decided against expanding the local facilities.

He cited a June 16 announcement of tentative plans to build a new frame plant in Tennessee. At that time he said, "Businesses which succeed are those

Alderman ousted, suits are planned

Circuit Court proceedings to prevent the Madison City Council from ousting Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz from his council post are scheduled to be filed today, Grzywacz told the Press-Record following a council session Tuesday night in which the aldermen voted 6-1 to remove Grzywacz from office.

The alderman said his attorney, Norman London, also will begin preparation of a suit directed against Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and council members who voted for Grzywacz's removal during the council session.

The council action for Grzywacz's removal from the Third Ward seat came at the opening of the meeting Tuesday night after the mayor told the aldermen:

"Due to the recent conviction and sentencing of Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, I hereby declare the seat in the Third Ward open, and I will entertain a motion to that effect." The city council believes a 1975 state law allows removal from office and provides a mechanism for restoration of office after a successful appeal.

Alderman Ronald Gushieff of the Second Ward replied to the mayor's declaration, "I so move."

Voting in favor of the motion were Alderman Don Reeves, who had given a second to the motion, Gushieff, Frank

Regional planning defended at hearing

By ED GURNEY
Regional planning, yes. Regional government, no. Those statements seem to sum up the feelings of most of those who testified in a public hearing held at SIUE by the Joint Committee on Regional Government.

Most of those who testified in the morning favored continuation of the types of regional planning efforts now in existence. None spoke in favor of regional government.

It was the third and final public hearing conducted by the committee of the Illinois General Assembly.

A report is to be written and legislation possibly drafted to control regional planning groups.

Regional planning agencies provide needed services, according to their proponents. They seem to be part of the effort to take away the powers of local governmental units, according to opponents.

Sandra L. Edelman, board member of the League of Women Voters in the Alton area, said the league is concerned with the need for adequate planning. Planning is needed in metropolitan areas to solve burgeoning problems, she said.

Alan Richter, executive director of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, stressed the need for cooperation between the many governmental units in the St. Louis area.

Cooperation is needed to address problems with railroad switching that are "strangling the economy," he said. The efforts of seven different port districts must be coordinated in this, the largest inland river port, he added.

East-West gives local elected officials the opportunity to come together and deal with various problems, he said.

As for regional government, "We have no regional government in St. Louis. I know of no talk of it, and don't think I'll live to see it," Richter said.

Regional planning agencies have not taken away the freedoms of local people, according to Donald Melhorn, mayor of Swansea and president of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors.

Melhorn said that, as a local official, he's gotten assistance from planning agencies but has never been ordered to do anything.

Thornton Ridinger, manager of the comprehensive planning program for the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, expressed the thoughts of many of the witnesses who spoke in support of regional planning efforts.

Ridinger said his agency is opposed to the concept of regional government, but supports planning and interagency cooperation.

"In Illinois, most of the planning organizations are established by voluntary action of local governments," Ridinger said.

The agencies try to address local needs, such as economic development, protection of natural resources and addition of housing, Ridinger said. The agencies' recommendations are advisory only, he added.

Among the benefits of planning agencies, Ridinger said, are:

—They provide technical help to local governments in such areas as applying for federal grants.

—Local governments can pool their resources to pay the cost of skilled staff people.

—They strengthen cooperation and coordination between governmental units.

The federal government has used grant programs to seize control over local governments, others said. They propose that local governments stop accepting federal funds.

Window broken at Labor Temple

A plate glass window four feet by six feet was broken at the Labor Temple, 2014 State St., during the weekend, Edwin Reiske, manager, reported to police.

Officers said they found blood on the glass, but that entry into the building apparently had not been gained. Police checked the hospital and were told a young man had received treatment for a cut on an arm.

The youth was questioned and he told police he remembered stumbling against a window while walking, but when shown the window insisted he had not broken it. He said he cut his arm when he fell against a small window.

Reiske said the window was broken at about 10 p.m. Saturday. The window is in the building's east wing, which is used for meetings and social events.

Cable TV revived

An application for a franchise to construct and operate a cable television system in Granite City has been filed with the City by Southwestern Cable TV, Inc., which has begun construction of systems in Edwardsville and Collinsville. City Council members were informed Tuesday night.

Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of a special committee named by Mayor Paul Schulz to study the feasibility of cable television in Granite City, said no action is expected to be taken until other proposals are studied by his committee.

Boyd told the council that he had received a copy of the franchise application and detailed proposal of franchise terms Tuesday morning and that he had not had time to study the plan. Copies of the program also have been referred to Mrs. Margaret Nomm and Everett Morlen, the other two aldermanic members of the Cable TV Committee.

Boyd said he had received a request for more information from another company and City Clerk Robert Stevens noted he has received an inquiry from the American Cable TV Co. of Denver, Colo., concerning popular television programs. Neither of these firms have submitted proposals, however.

An advertisement asking for proposals to install and operate a cable system here was inserted in professional magazines by the city three weeks ago.

Harvey Stewart, vice-president-operations of the Southwestern company, said financing of the system here would be by the company which is based in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and estimated it would cost a total of $3 million to install the systems in Granite City, Collinsville and Edwardsville.

Stewart said all municipal proceedings for construction of the Collinsville and Edwardsville cable systems have been completed and that work of installing cables on utility poles is expected to begin soon. The Granite City installation would become part of the overall program if the franchise is granted, he added.

Such a system would provide 15 television channels, including the six channels now available through St. Louis, plus additional channels from Carbondale, Chicago, Atlanta, Ga. and Norfolk, Va. The programming also would include pay television upon the option of the viewers, providing continuous programs without commercials.

A general channel providing news, weather, sports and automated viewing also would be included, as well as a channel reserved for use by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville which would do its own programming.

A feature of the offer is a free access channel that would be used for local organizations, the televising of public functions, governmental meetings and public events. A channel from Madison Square Garden also is provided.

City officials said no discussions have yet been held as to franchise fees or other financial details.

Installation cost would be $25 for each original installation with $15 additional for a second outlet in a home. Second outlets in commercial establishments would be the cost of materials and 10 per cent of cost.

Shooting was 'in haste' police chief believes

An investigation still is continuing to clear up all aspects of a Sept. 28 shooting incident in which a Granite City police officer was wounded while riding in a car leaving a tavern parking lot on Highway 137 in Centerville.

Details of the formal inquiry to date were released Monday afternoon by Centerville Police Chief Theodore Shamalian. "It has been established the incident occurred when some police officers and friends were leaving a local (Centerville) tavern where they'd had a party for one of the men," Chief Shamalian said.

"They all agree they were in a pretty relaxed mood," he added.

As the group left, apparently some words were exchanged between the men and a security guard employed at the tavern, Chief Shamalian said, but the men continued across the parking lot and got into a vehicle.

When the Granite City officers and friends drove out of the parking area in the auto, someone apparently took a weapon from his belt and discharged two shots into the air through an open window of the car.

The security guard heard two shots fired and, under the impression he was being fired upon, discharged several shots in the direction of the vehicle exiting the parking lot, Chief Shamalian said.

"As far as we can tell, one shot from the guard's weapon penetrated the vehicle's gas tank and one slug shattered the rear window of the auto. The location of a third shot fired by the guard has not been firmly established," the chief said. The security guard recreated the scene for which a Granite City police officer was wounded while riding in a car leaving a tavern parking lot on Highway 137 in Centerville.

The local police officers worked with the Centerville department on orders from Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

"It was determined the guard was about 200 feet from the vehicle when he fired the shots," Chief Shamalian said. "I am confident no shots were directly exchanged, nor did anyone fire at a specific person," the Centerville chief stressed.

"Although the security guard was under the impression he was being fired upon, I believe it could be said that he acted in haste in returning the fire in this instance," Chief Shamalian commented.

"We are going to submit a report to the state's attorney's office, but I don't think it will result in any criminal charges," he stated.

"I agree it was a serious incident, but I do not believe there was a deliberate act involved," he added. He speculated that the shot which wounded the Granite City officer may have been a deflected bullet that ricocheted from the roof or the shattered rear window of the car.

Chief Shamalian did not reveal the names of the officers involved, nor the security guard's name.

It was learned last Friday, however, that Granite City Patrolman Jerry Duncan underwent surgery at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, for removal of a bullet that had lodged between the skin and skull.

Duncan is recovering from the surgery. He was released from the hospital Monday.

Chief Veizer stated the case is in the hands of the Centerville police and any statement concerning the incident would be released by that department.

Trojan kickers fall to Gibault

MADISON — The Madison High School soccer went down to defeat here Tuesday to Waterloo Gibault 2-0.

The Trojans were out-scored 2-0 in the first half and 2-0 in the second half. However, head coach Gene Briggs wasn't disheartened. "We've got a long way to go," he said. "But I can see a big improvement in our play since the last time we faced Gibault."

The last Madison-Gibault meeting had the same results, a 2-0 victory for Gibault in Waterloo.

Gibault out-shot Madison 37-7, had the edge in corner kicks 6-0 and had three saves, while Madison goalie Aberly Crawford made 16 saves in goal.

Kitchen ransacked

A toaster-oven and a coffee maker were among the loot from a burglary at the home of William Branding, 2810 Iowa Street, which was discovered at 11:10 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a window. The kitchen was ransacked, food from the refrigerator was thrown on the floor and the refrigerator door was left open. Dressers were searched. An inventory is to be made to determine if anything else was stolen.

ARSON SUSPECTED

An investigation into possible arson is being conducted by the Venice fire department in regard to a vacant house fire at 1242 Robin St. Firemen were at the scene from 8:30 p.m. until 9:45 p.m. Wednesday. The property is owned by Roland Cagle. No estimate of damage was made.

Payments

allowance for pre-condition. Illinois was made with "foundation of youth." No one ages in Illinois anymore.

This provision placed unprecedentedly heavy and wrongful burdens on Illinois employers. What does "rocking chair money" have to do with job injuries? Nothing but the Illinois employers have to pay it anyway.

Illinois employers are now forced to pay "bar stool money." What is it?

A worker has an unhappy weekend at home. Monday night he goes down to his favorite tavern to drown his sorrows.

He has a few too in the bar. He falls off the bar stool and hurts his back. Next day, he goes to work but by afternoon his back hurts too much.

He can't continue work. He sees his doctor and takes time off from the job.

Is he paid? Yes. But why does the employer have to pay workmen's compensation because the guy fell off a bar stool?

He has to pay because all the burden of proof is on the employer. How can the employer prove the worker's backache was not caused by his work but by the guy falling off a bar stool? He cannot, says the law.

Since the worker was on the job when he complained of back pains, the worker does not have to prove anything. The result: up go the costs of WC in Illinois.

Is the Illinois WC law subject to abuse? Ask any Illinois employer.

Specific WC benefits were raised from 86 percent to 267 percent.

And then they were extended on and on, to include not just the worker and a surviving family member but also to establish a two-year dower for a widow who remarries, benefits for children up to age 25, benefits for parents and for dependent children not otherwise provided for, benefits for grandparents, grandchildren or other collateral heirs even if only fractionally dependent on the decedent.

The result: rapidly escalating WC costs in Illinois.

The costs of medical expenses have been tremendously accelerated upward by the 1975 revisions.

Plant

Although auto purchases previously dictated the weight and design of future models, a government requirement of a 27 miles per gallon average in fuel efficiency by 1985 has posed a challenge to those who believe frames and frame structures should continue to be utilized.

Smaller frames create a greater corrosion potential, necessitating expensive coatings and complicating cost competitiveness, the plant manager related.

Compensation

Kelly called for meaningful legislative WC revision to establish some method of independent monitoring of treatment costs.

He said regular sickness and accident benefits amount to $135 a week for 52 weeks. But where an injury may be work-related, two-thirds of pay is provided, averaging $185-$200 based on weekly pay of up to $300 at Smith.

In addition, the latter income under

Before July 1, 1975, the employer, who had an obvious interest in providing good medical care so a worker would be back on the job as quickly as possible, could choose the physician.

The July 1, 1975, amendments abolished the employer's rights. The worker, and in organized plants this usually means the union leader, now chooses the physician.

The latter has every financial reason to prolong the case and charge high fees. By seeking over-generous treatment, the doctor can get repeat business from the worker, or union or union lawyer.

Some Illinois physicians now only handle WC cases. The result: escalating medical costs.

The Illinois workmen's compensation law should also be called the "lawyer's compensation law." The 1975 amendments forbade the Illinois Industrial Commission to set standards (as in Wisconsin) for particular injuries, especially in the case of permanent partial disability.

So, a high percentage of cases go to arbitration. The lawyer gets 20 percent off the top of the final award before the worker gets a dime.

The more arbitration and the higher the awards, the more money the lawyer makes. Further, arbitrators have tended to reject employer evidence and accept the claims of the worker's lawyer. Result: escalating WC costs in Illinois.

The 1975 WC amendments introduced the "man as a whole" concept. Insurance companies had little or no experience with the concept, which applies to injuries or diseases not specified in the statute.

Payments under the concept are over and above payments for medical expenses and weekly cash benefits for temporary inability to work. The result: increased litigation and escalating WC costs in Illinois.

How could actuaries for insurance companies estimate future liabilities under the revised Illinois WC law as illustrated above? They could not. To protect their companies, they had to recommend unprecedented increases in insurance rates.

In his June statement, he commented that "several years down the road, our competitive position here will have deteriorated to the extent we may not be able to operate in this community, unless something is done quickly" regarding costs.

Among the suggestions is that the level of workmen's compensation benefits, enhanced by their tax-free nature, not be so close to regular take-home pay that the incentive to report to work is diminished.

workmen's compensation rules also can lead to assertions of permanent partial disability, it was noted.

Employees differ with the plant's conclusions, asserting that extensive treatment and long periods away from work are justified by the rigors of tasks assigned to production workers.

They describe such rights and benefits as deserved, and view them as an enlightened example for the nation.

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 8-14

Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 8 through Oct. 14 and many area fire departments are planning special programs to call attention to prevention measures.

The Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department will hold an open house Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. during which fire-fighting and rescue equipment will be on display and demonstrated.

The department's new rescue truck also will be on display in Mitchell.

The Venice fire department will visit school classes presenting a prevention program to the school children.

The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department will hold an open house in the new building, in Pontoon Beach on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 14 and 15, from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The Long Lake firemen will present numerous demonstrations including a tool called the "jaws of life" used in rescue work.

Residents of Granite City are invited to stop by any of the city's fire stations between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. during the week and the firemen will answer questions and show visitors around.

Groups wishing to tour fire stations or organizations wishing a fire prevention program may make arrangements by telephoning 877-6114, according to George Smolich, assistant fire chief.

Smolich noted that special programs to teach fire safety to children are being held throughout the city and fire safety books are being given to the school children.

Fire safety posters are being distributed throughout the city at the present time.

School insurance revamping stodied

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City Board of Education members indicated at Tuesday night's board meeting that they favor self-insuring employees for health care, rather than continuing to pay more than $750,000 per year in insurance premiums.

The board authorized insurance consultant James Gallivan to prepare bid specifications on various packages which would provide life insurance and "stop-loss" insurance which would assure the district could not be ruined by catastrophic claims.

One of the packages also is to offer the company providing the life insurance the opportunity to administer the health claims under contract with the school district, while the district pays for approved claims.

Two types of stop-loss insurance also are to be bid, one which would set a maximum on the total the district would have to pay, should claims exceed a specific amount, probably around $850,000. The other would set a maximum the district would be required to pay per covered employee.

Gallivan has estimated the district could save from $40,000 to $60,000 per year by self-insuring its health benefits, rather than utilizing an insurance company. The savings would be between 5 and 7.5 percent, his study has shown.

Self-insuring has several advantages and disadvantages, his report noted. Among the advantages is that the school district can control a reserve of cash available for benefits and can collect interest on that deposited reserve.

Self-insuring also would save the district the profit and some of the overhead and administrative expenses included by the insurance companies in their premium rates.

Once an adequate "reserve" has been deposited in the district's insurance fund, the district will need only pay into the fund an amount equal to that month's benefits paid to employees to remain solvent, the study showed.

Disadvantages include the cost of stop-loss insurance and the problem of self-administration of the program. Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, told the board he feels strongly the administration of the program should be contracted out to an insurance firm, which would probably cost $25,000 to $40,000 per year.

He said the administrative service would relieve the district of requirements for medical review boards, legal services should there be disputed claims, and a great deal of additional work in processing the claims.

He also said that Gallivan has indicated more companies are likely to bid on the stop-loss insurance, probably at a lower premium, if the administration of the health program is part of the life and stop-loss insurance package.

Comparisons of the premiums paid during the past 12 months and the actual claims for the school district paid by the Great-West Insurance Co. show that the school district could have saved $187,129 in one-year period by self-insuring.

Claims between Sept. 1, 1977, and Aug. 31, 1978, totaled $574,240, while premiums paid totaled $761,369, Gallivan's research showed.

For the first seven months of this year, claims have averaged $49,489, while premiums to Great-West have averaged $68,989 per month, a $19,470 difference. It is projected that during 1979, premiums would total $814,472, while claims are estimated at $638,869 in Gallivan's report, a projected $175,603 savings, minus the costs of administration and stop-loss insurance.

Gallivan recommended against the district self-insuring life insurance benefits and the board concurred.

Board members agreed that the decision whether to self-insure can be made after the bidding, when more specific figures are available for study.

Rea indicated he did not feel conversion plans, run-off claims, and separation of the district's insurance liability would present major problems, should the district decide to self-insure health benefits.

Rapoff surrenders on two GC warrants

Andrew T. Rapoff, 54, Osage Beach, Mo., surrendered to Granite City police at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday on warrants alleging reckless conduct and battery.

Rapoff is the second man arrested in connection with the beating of Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald L. Coleman, 44, of 2445 Woodlawn Ave., in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant the night of Aug. 16.

Walter M. Rozycki, 52, of 2216 Madison Ave., surrendered Sept. 28 on the same charges and was freed on a $10,000 property bond.

Rapoff appeared Tuesday evening before Associate Judge William E. Johnson, pleaded innocent and then was released on a $5,000 property bond.

Coleman alleges he was leaving the restaurant's lounge when one man yelled at him and acted as though he wanted to shake hands. When Coleman approached, the man called him a name, struck him in the face with a fist and knocked him down, Coleman alleged.

Two men then allegedly kicked and beat him, causing abrasions to his face, chest and neck, cuts to his upper lip and eyebrow and swelling to his face. His injuries required treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

HARRICK GIVES PROBATION Jeanne Stogsdill, 19, of 3707 Kirkpatrick Homes, has been sentenced to serve six months of probation after pleading guilty to criminal trespass to land.

The charge was reduced from burglary stemming from a May 15 case. Associate Judge Philip J. Harick pronounced the sentence in Madison County Circuit Court.

Bulldozing code

inspection officials agreed would be a violation of the city building code.

When he began looking into the matter, Decatur said, he found that a building permit issued by the City building inspector's office for the garage structure fails to list any of the required permit information such as size of the building, what it is to be used for, types of material, size and depths of foundation or footings and other pertinent details.

"Not only that," Decatur noted, "but the permit does not bear the signature of the building inspector (Anthony Rusick) but is rubber stamped."

The permit lists a construction value of $2,500 and lists Dorothy Jones of 3115 Wayne Ave., as the owner of the ground, and David Jones as contractor. The permit application is signed by David Jones as owner.

Decatur said that he had talked with other inspectors of the city's inspection department and was informed the building has been wired with 100 ampere service and that plumbing plans call for three outlets.

"This sounds like more than a garage to me... Why would a garage have three plumbing outlets?" Decatur asked.

Emerald Daves, city inspector, replied that there is no proof the structure is being built as living quarters.

"It doesn't become a home until someone moves into it," Daves said.

One Alderman asked Callis if it would constitute a violation if someone moves into the building as living quarters.

"Absolutely," Callis replied.

Daves admitted that his building inspection department had erred in not obtaining detailed information required in the building permit forms, explaining the permit was issued by a manpower employee who no longer is with the city.

"The permit should have had dimensions and other information," Daves conceded. "All the permit says is that it is for a garage."

He said the procedure in issuing permits has been corrected.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward asked Rusick if the garage was built in accordance with zoning regulations and Rusick said the garage was built within three feet of the sidewalk and that so far as he knew the variance from a minimum five-foot sidewalk in zoning regulations was not cleared through the zoning appeals board.

Daves told the aldermen that the builder went to his neighbors and was told they had no objections to his building in that location.

Charles Douglas, an alderman of Ward One, remarked the building "is supposed to go to the Appeals Board for such clearance."

"He didn't. We violated the rules by giving this permit to him," Daves responded.

Daves emphasized that the builder "should not be blamed for this. We (inspection officials) were the ones to blame in this case."

After the council approved Decatur's motion instructing Callis to look into facts of the case, Douglas presented a motion providing that hereafter all building permits be signed personally by Rusick "and not rubber-stamped."

The aldermen approved the motion unanimously, but Daves noted:

"That's going to create a problem. What if Rusick is out on other work, or not available. There's times when he is gone and I'm gone, too."

Whitmer said, "We have a full-time building inspector and he's paid a full-time salary. I think he can manage to get the work done."

Alderman Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward said he thought something should be done to make subdivision regulations more easily available. Callis explained the property owner would be the person most likely to know through the legal designations on the property abstract.

In calling for a revision of the occupancy ordinance that failed to reach passage stage four years ago, Decatur told the aldermen that he had discussed the ordinance with Mayor Paul Schuler and that he agreed with the Mayor that the earlier bill carried restrictions that were too severe and would have created a hardship not only on property owners, but on renters.

The occupancy ordinance would establish a set of minimum standards which must be met before a property may be sold or rented. It provides for inspection of the property before it is occupied in each instance that property changes owners or renters.

Decatur first suggested that the ordinance be referred to Callis for revision, but Callis explained it would be difficult for him to determine what was needed without extensive consultation with the aldermen.

Mayor Schuler said he believed the bill should be referred to the Ordinance Committee for study and revision, with a new measure to be drafted by the city attorney on the basis of the committee's recommendations.

A motion to that effect by Decatur was approved unanimously.

Alderman

Grzywacz, with two other former Madison police officers, Richard Krieshek and Edward Golan, were convicted by a federal jury in Alton July 5 on charges that they accepted bribes and favors from tavern owners in Madison in return for allowing prostitution and late closing hours.

The three were sentenced in Federal court last week. Grzywacz received 12 years on the racketeering conviction and five years for perjury, the terms to run concurrently.

Krieshek and Golan were each sentenced to seven years for racketeering and five years for perjury, to run concurrently.

Grzywacz has refused to resign his aldermanic seat until appeals are upheld or exhausted. He and the others have maintained their innocence of the charges.

Following the council session in which the vote was taken to remove Grzywacz, Mayor Sasyk declined to make any comment to an appointed successor to fill the Third Ward post.

"With the election less than six months away, I am not certain I will appoint anyone for such a short period of time," he said.

Grzywacz said, "This action (removal by the council) is a personal vendetta by Mayor Sasyk against me. Not one resident of the Third Ward has asked me to resign or even suggested that I resign."

Meanwhile, Grzywacz, Krieshek and Golan have been subpoenaed to testify before a federal grand jury Oct. 24.

Grzywacz said that he and the two other officers have decided to invoke the Fifth Amendment on the advice of their attorneys, "as such testimony would constitute double jeopardy."

Federal authorities have said they are continuing their investigation into reported practices in Madison County.

executive and a vice-chairman of the United Way campaign, cited heartening response to the drive and praised the ability and interest of all division chairmen and workers.

George Knecht, a United Steelworkers of America staff representative and a vice-chairman of the UW drive, called for employer-employee teamwork to achieve the goal and commented that — through hard work — success can be attained.

Albert King, Tri-Cities Area United Way executive director, said that of the accounts completed so far, nearly half show a change in giving patterns. Eighty percent of the changes involve new or increased contributions, and 20 percent show reductions in giving in business.

He praised for significant gains such stores as National Food, Schnuck

Supermarket, Hudson Jewelry, Carp's, Leader, Department Stores and Central Hardware.

King also praised Consolidated Aluminum Corp. and noted that the employees of United Way member agencies have increased their giving by 36 percent.

UW agencies are the Boy Scouts, Catholic Charities, Coordinated Youth Services, Protestant Welfare Association, Girl Scouts, Family Counseling Center, Illinois Children's Home, Madison County Urban League, Tri-Cities Association for the Retarded, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse Association, Tri-City Area YMCA, AFL-CIO Community Services, American Red Cross, Alcohol Rehabilitation Community Home and the Arthritis Foundation.

DELEGATES GATHER in Madison for the three-day annual meeting Monday through Wednesday of the Chicago and Minneapolis Orthodox Church in America which covers an eight-state area. The delegates are seen taking a break Tuesday at the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison, following a luncheon prepared by the ladies of the church.

New Bishop chosen at Madison meeting

The Right Rev. Archimandrite Boris T. Geeza, '55, the Orthodox Church of America's (OCA) bishop-elect of Manhattan (N.Y.), and Chancellor of its San Francisco and Western U. S. Diocese, was unanimously elected to become ruling Bishop of the Chicago and Minneapolis Diocese Monday at a diocesan assembly at Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison.

Presiding at the special session of the assembly was His Grace, Bishop Dmitri, of Dallas and the Southern States, representing His Beatitude, Metropolitan Theodosius, Primate of the Orthodox Church in America, presently visiting heads of Orthodox Churches abroad.

The diocesan vacancy was created by the retirement of His Eminence, Archbishop John (Garklavs), 80, on Sept. 1, after 22 years as ruling hierarch of the area.

It remains for the OCA's Holy Synod of Bishops, who meet in New York City Oct. 17-18, to consider the nomination and formally act on Archimandrite Geeza's election to the post — an OCA statutory responsibility of the synod.

A widower since 1971, Father Geeza was named bishop-elect of Manhattan by the Holy Synod in July as a potential aid to His Beatitude, Metropolitan Theodosius.

He was tonsured into monasticism by the Metropolitan at the Protection of the Holy Virgin Cathedral in New York City on Sept. 16 and elevated to the rank of archimandrite on the following day. The date for his consecration to the episcopacy had not been determined.

Since his bishop-elect post was as an auxiliary bishop, OCA statutes permitted consideration of Archimandrite Geeza as nominee for ruling bishop of a diocese, a nomination for which already ruling diocesan bishops are not eligible.

Should his election as Diocesan Bishop of Chicago and Minneapolis by the Holy Synod of Bishops be formalized, considered a probable action, he will be consecrated in Chicago.

A veteran of 22 years service in the U. S. Navy Chaplains Corps, retiring in 1975 with the rank of commander, Archimandrite Geeza served as dean of Orthodox Chaplains in the U. S. Armed Forces. He is a graduate of Columbia University and graduated from St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary, Crestwood, N. Y., in 1946.

He was married in 1946 to Helen Korba and has two children: Boris, 27 and Helena, 25. His wife died in 1971.

Following seminary graduation, he served as choir director and teacher at Three Saints Russian Orthodox Church, Garfield, N. J., until his ordination into the priesthood in 1947. From 1947 until commissioned a chaplain in March 1953, he was pastor of St. Nicholas Orthodox Church in Wierton, W. Va. As chaplain, he served at sea, in Japan, Vietnam and the U. S.

Upon retirement from the chaplaincy, he pursued post-graduate studies at St. Vladimir's Seminary, and was appointed dean of San Francisco's Holy Trinity Orthodox Cathedral, named chancellor of the diocese and represented it on the OCA's Metropolitan Council.

Archimandrite Geeza was born in Portage, Pa., and is the son of the late V. Rev. Theodore and Mary (Youshok) Geeza. His mother, 78, is presently residing in southern California.

The Ladies Sodality and friends took on the task of preparing the meals for the 30 delegates and observers attending the annual meeting.

Parishoners of the Madison church also provided transportation to and from the Holiday Inn in Collinsville where most delegates stayed, and the meeting in the Madison church.

The delegates were from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota.

Next year the meeting will be held in Lorain, Ohio.

In addition to selecting the bishop, the delegates discussed the entire operation of the church, both spiritual and administrative.

They reviewed and re-evaluated programs of the church and discussed new programs.

Religious education and problems unique to the particular churches also were discussed.

Missions work within the local parish, community, and nationwide also was a major topic of the delegates.

Seminar on alcoholism

An alcoholism seminar sponsored by the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency will be held Oct. 17 at the Alton Ramada Inn. This year's seminar theme is "Al-Anon: The Family of the Alcoholic."

Laura Root, coordinator of training and special projects at Hyland Center, St. Louis, and director of the national alcoholism training program for professionals at Washington University, will speak on "The Family and Alcoholism."

Other topics to be covered include alcoholism — the total illness, the alcoholic marriage, and Al-Anon and Alcoholic Anonymous as viewed by a recovering alcoholic clergyman. This seminar is the first of a series of annual programs to be given by MCCADD.

Members of Al-Anon and the MCCADD counseling staff will be on hand to discuss alcoholism with seminar participants. The program is open to the public, and registration information may be obtained from the MCCADD office, 1 E. Ferguson Ave., Wood River (254-7400).

Street oiling Monday

The city street department on Monday will begin a citywide oiling and chipping program on all streets of that type. Lionel Portell, street superintendent, announced Wednesday.

Portell said the work is expected to take a week to ten days if good weather prevails.

Work will begin on Monday in the Granite City area and should be completed on that day, he said, noting that a schedule of work areas will be announced Monday for the rest of the city.

City workers are expected to spread 60,000 gallons of oil and spread 1,600 to 1,800 tons of rock chips, at a cost of 50 cents a gallon for oil (a total of $30,000), and $8 per ton for chips (a total of about $15,000).

Events aid Cystic Fibrosis research

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

The annual appeal for funds to support medical research programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and related patient care services will be launched this weekend with a dance and roadblock in the Quad-Cities.

Mrs. Brenda Harper, chairman of the Madison Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, said the group will seek contributions from passing motorists from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, at the intersection of Madison Avenue and Sixth Street.

The local volunteer workers will be assisted in the roadblock project by members of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. Harper announced this week.

"Tickets for the public dance at 9 p.m. Saturday, may be purchased for $3 each at the door of the Tri-City American Legion Hall, 1825 State St., location of the gala event."

Music for dancing will be furnished by Third Wind.

Proceeds from both the roadblock and dance will be used for patient care services and medical research programs being conducted through the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

More than six million youngsters in the United States suffer from cystic fibrosis and other lung-crippling diseases.

In this community, there are several C-F victims, including Joey and Billy Decker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Cindy) Donaldson, 3224 Aubrey Ave. Joey, 12, is required to take postural drainage treatment twice each day and Billy, 8, must take large quantities of medication.

Timmy and Becky Stephens, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stephens, 2105 Terminal Ave., also are C-F victims.

Timmy, 3, takes postural drainage twice daily and his sister, 6, needs the same treatment once each day.

A BRIGHTER FUTURE is in store through on-going medical research for these area children and millions of young victims of cystic fibrosis, a lung crippling disease.

From left to right are the Donaldson brothers, Joey, 12, and Billy, 9, of Granite City, Poster Child Melinda Lux, 9, of Belleville, and Stephens children, Timmy, 3, and Becky, 6, of Granite City. A public dance at 9 p.m. Saturday at Tri-City American Legion Hall, 1825 State St., and a roadblock at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, will aid the work of the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

All receive special medication to help control the disease.

Melinda Jo Lux, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lux of Belleville and a granddaughter of Madison residents, is the current Madison-St. Clair Counties C-F Poster Child.

Melinda Jo must sleep each night in a mist tent, take two postural drainage treatments each day and consume a large variety of medicine.

The fourth grade pupil is a niece of Mrs. Harper, the campaign chairman.

Cystic fibrosis is the most serious disease affecting children's lungs and digestive systems.

One in roughly 1,000 babies is born with the ailment, which is hereditary.

Both parents of a cystic fibrosis child carry a defective gene that frequently causes the disease to appear.

A key factor in the disease is malfunctioning glands which produce an abnormal mucus that clogs the lungs, causing breathing difficulties and the constant danger of infection.

The thick mucus also interferes with digestion by preventing the flow of enzymes from the pancreas into the intestines.

As a result, a child may have a healthy appetite, but severe malnutrition symptoms often occur.

The National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is continuing its never-ending fight to conquer the disease and a variety of other lung-damaging diseases in children.

Not only is money provided for research programs, but also for patient care services — a high — ongoing expense — and to finance C-F Centers across the country.

Six out of seven patients referred to a C-F Center for diagnosis have other ailments whose symptoms mimic cystic fibrosis, it was learned.

Children with severe asthma, chronic bronchitis and childhood emphysema also need help, and their condition often responds to the same type of treatment devised for C-F victims.

There are more than 120 C-F centers supported by the foundation throughout the nation.

The C-F program was broadened nine years ago to include most children suffering with the other chronic lung-crippling diseases.

Every year since 1960, an average of one year of life has been added to diagnosed patients.

Most babies with C-F died not too many years ago before reaching school age.

Today, with early diagnosis

JOINT CHURCH SERVICE

A joint worship service was held Sunday evening at the Pontoon Baptist Church, with the New Hope Church also participating and the Reverend Wisley of New Hope preaching. There was special music by Joyce Richardson of New Hope and Nick Popelchak of Pontoon Baptist.

A fellowship luncheon followed, with about 100 in attendance.

The Pontoon Baptist Church will be starting revival services Oct. 8 with the pastor, the Rev. Pat Fife, as speaker and Nick Popelchak, music director, leading special music.

Singers are planned at each service, and the public is being invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hollis and daughter, Angie, of Bradley Street, spent the weekend in Dexter, Mo., with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hollis Sr. and Mrs. Hollis Sr. returned home with them for an extended visit.

and improved therapy and medication, more and more C-F victims reach young adulthood, and are living proof of the results of the foundation-supported research programs.

The treatment for cystic fibrosis has been devised so recently and constantly is being updated that those youngsters having received it from infancy are the ones being carefully watched to determine its long-term effectiveness, it was learned.

"We hope everyone will aid the foundation's work by supporting the roadblock and attending Saturday's dance at the American Legion Hall in Granite City," Mrs. Harper said.

discussed and it was noted each member may sell enough candy to provide the cost of their membership and the remainder of the profits will go to the chapter treasury.

Faculty advisor, Mrs. Jeanette Holder, distributed yearbooks, followed by a review of the initiation for new members set for Sunday afternoon, Oct. 15, at Central Christian Church.

Initiates were reminded to learn the FSA code of ethics for recitation at the event, and regular members are to provide cookies refreshment.

The Nov. 7 meeting will feature a film and speaker on the subject of rape prevention. Members were invited to bring their mothers as guests.

There will be no meetings in December or January, the club officers reported.

Fifteen members of the Afternoon Guild of St. Peters United Church of Christ, visited the Hitz Nursing Home in Alhambra, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Marie Whittle provided the music and all joined in singing hymns. The Guild gave the home six cases of disposable bed pads. They also served refreshments to the residents of the home.

Before leaving for Hitz Home a short business meeting was held at the church. Loretta Hurry reminded the group that the last day for reservations for the women and girls banquet to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 10th, is today.

Ruth Brave reported that the Cottonwood Nursing Home will need furniture soon and asked the guild to participate in this project.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 2, beginning with a dessert luncheon at 12 noon.

Enter warehouse, office tools gone

Ceiling lights and fixtures were shattered by pellets, apparently from an air gun, and tools and other items were stolen in a burglary at Young Metal Products, 2883 Missouri Ave., reported Monday by Paul Chincok.

The offices were entered by breaking a glass door pane and reaching through. Drawers were left open and the ceiling lights were shot out.

Lights in the warehouse also were broken by a pellet gun and a preliminary check disclosed $55 worth of hand tools were missing.

An inventory was being checked to determine what other tools were taken in the burglary.

Schooley: 'We just didn't pass enough'

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Tom Schooley got to go home last weekend for the first time since he left Granite City for football practice at the University of Illinois in late August. But it wasn't because of a break in training for the Fighting Illini. Schooley, a former standout football and track star at Granite City High School South, decided last week to quit the football team at the U of I. At the time, the squad was in the midst of a seven-game non-winning streak which stretched back over last season.

Schooley, a junior split end, was the team's leading pass receiver last season, but in the first three games this year had not been used as a receiver on very many occasions. Instead he was relegated to the role of blocker. Illinois had gone to a running game instead of a passing one.

wasn't doing enough of that here, and wouldn't be doing it in the future."

Schooley was a holdover at Illinois from the days of coach Bob Blackman. Last season when coach Gary Moeller arrived at Champaign from Michigan, he installed the Michigan-type of running offense. However, Moeller soon learned that you can't play Michigan-type offense without Michigan-type players. But he declared that in order to get any system started, a coach has to start from point A... not point B or C.

When Moeller arrived, Schooley got a little worried. "I knew he had played at Ohio State and coached at Michigan... so I also knew he'd be wanting to run the ball a lot more than throw it. I guess the handwriting was on the wall for a long time."

"But I was under the impression that we were going to pass the ball a little more than we've been doing," he added. "But I was being used mainly in blocking rolls instead of pass-catching."

"I just didn't feel my potential was being used to its greatest extent."

Schooley left the team on Tuesday of last week, but it wasn't until Thursday that he finally got in to speak with Moeller. I went in and we talked for about 45 minutes or so," said Schooley. "He wanted to know if I had thoroughly thought this thing through and that I was sure it was what I wanted to do."

"I told him I had, and that it was... but I knew that even though it didn't make any difference. It had already been announced by him that I had left the team."

Fernandez one-man show...

South comeback sinks Canokia in prep soccer thriller, 5-3

By DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record
CANOKIA — Four red cards, three yellow and a comparatively high number of fouls marred the Granite City South Warriors' 15th victory of the season here Monday.

North vs. South today, 4:30 p.m. opened the game scoring when he put the Comanches on a "false high" with a 1-0 lead. He headed the soccer ball into the net after it had been kicked in front of the Warrior goal by John Davis.

The goal occurred midway through the first period, and Canokia maintained its lead through the stanza.

Sirtak, again using his head, gave the Comanches a 2-0 lead with a goal in the second quarter.

The second Canokia goal came off a penalty kick by Bobby Tenholder. The shot missed, but Sirtak was there to put the ball into the net on the rebound, just out of the reach of South's goal keeper, Andy Costello.

"Costello and the rest of the team were a little tired," said Baker. "They were playing three games in three days."

SATURDAY The Warriors played and won from Jacksonville. Sunday they faced — and defeated — St. Louis University High at SIUE-Edwardsville's Cougar Field.

The Canokia game was that third game in those three days. At halftime, Baker had a talk with his Warriors in an attempt to somehow get some fire into their play and do something about the 2-0 deficit they found themselves in.

Whatever he said must have worked. The Warriors came out in the third quarter determined to make up for their lackluster first half performance. They did.

JUST 1:31 INTO the second half, sophomore David Fernandez broke away from his defenders, and in a one-on-one battle, fired a shot that cleanly beat the Canokia goalie. His unassisted goal made the score 2-1.

Then Fernandez decided to do something about the one-goal deficit South was in. He scored on a penalty kick to tie the score 2-2 just 17 minutes after his first goal had been scored.

Going into the final 20 minutes of play, the Warriors and Comanches were tied.

Then it was "Fernandez Show Time" again. On yet another penalty kick, he beat the Canokia goalie for the third time in the game to give the Warriors the lead for the very first time, 3-2.

With the goal, Fernandez obtained a hat trick.

BUT THE SCORE of 3-2 wasn't good enough with still just over 10 minutes left to play in the game. So, Jeff Tinsley headed in a ball for a goal — and guess who got the assist for South, Right: Fernandez.

The Canokia game was that third game in those three days. At halftime, Baker had a talk with his Warriors in an attempt to somehow get some fire into their play and do something about the 2-0 deficit they found themselves in.

The goal made the score 4-2. But Canokia wasn't about to lie down and play dead... not after being ahead of the defending state champions at halftime.

JIM TORREY of the Comanches put his team back into a threatening position when he scored a goal in the final quarter off a bad pass to South goalie Costello from one of his own defenders. The unassisted goal made the score 4-3.

But South's Fred Schuler gave the Warriors an insurance goal when he drilled a shot into the net from the line. Canokia's goalie made the save when he caught the ball.

HOWEVER, he stepped backward over the goal line and a goal was credited to Schuler and the Warriors. That made the score 5-3.

"We take our soccer one game at a time," said Baker. "When we were down at the half, I was a little concerned about our lack of thought and communication."

"But I was glad with the way we came back... it's the sign of a good team... just another aspect of the game."

TODAY AT SOUTH, the 1978 renewal of the North-South soccer classic will be played at about 4:30 p.m. It will be preceded by a junior varsity game at 2:45 p.m.

Last season, the two teams tied 2-2 in their regular season meeting at North when the Steelers scored a last quarter goal. South beat North by one goal when the two clubs met in last year's IHSA Sectional at South.

'Bronze Boot' is rescheduled

EDWARDSVILLE — The always exciting annual Bronze Boot soccer game between Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Bills of St. Louis University has been rescheduled.

Instead of Friday night, Nov. 10, the battle between the two bitter soccer rivals will be the next night, Saturday, Nov. 11.

The site of the game will be the same: St. Louis' Busch Memorial Stadium. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

The Cougars' veteran soccer coach, Bob Guelker, made the announcement and explained the reason for the change.

"St. Louis' U's ice hockey team will open its season that Friday night and they appealed to us to change our soccer game so the Billiken students and fans would be able to attend both games."

Cougars hosting state tourney

By AL BARNES
EDWARDSVILLE — Bob Guelker, veteran coach of the high-ranking (sixth in the nation) Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer Cougars, is a stickler for seeing that his teams are in top physical condition.

On the road, he and his assistants patrol the motel halls at night to check on whether or not his charges are getting their proper rest.

Now, following the Cougars' 7-1 victory Sunday afternoon over a very good university of Missouri, St. Louis squad, Guelker may radically change his thinking about training rules, etcetera.

Saturday night, the members of the Cougar soccer team were among the honored guests at the wedding and reception party of their former teammate and last year's All-American, Greg (Face) Makowski, and his bride, Theresa Almond of Highland, Ill.

But, Sunday afternoon at Cougar Field, Guelker's charges—never looking sharper despite the 11:15 Saturday night curfew at the wedding reception—were truly awesome as they scored three goals in the first half and four in the first 45 minutes.

Don Ebert, again pacing the Cougars in scoring, struck with heart-stopping suddenness as he took a pass from winger Brian Higgins and blasted in the first of his three game goals 1:37 elapsed time. Most of the 2,500 fans were still entering the field stands.

Ebert made it 4-0 at 64:30 as he again teamed with Higgins, and the Rivermen couldn't have been faulted if they had moaned, in unison, "what hit us, a truck or a train."

In a little over five minutes, including Ebert's second goal, the Cougars struck for four goals. Dave Hundell made it 5-0 on an unassisted goal at 64:50, and Tim Guelker, on a pass from Jeff Cacciatore, ran it to 6-0 with a goal at 68:36.

Substitute goalkeeper, Mark Downar, who had looked impressive in games at Kansas City and Atchison, Kan., made the "save" as the partisan SIUE crowd roared its approval.

This weekend, the Cougars now 3-1, will host the annual Illinois Governor's Cup Tournament, Friday and Saturday.

In Friday's first game at 1 p.m. will be Western Illinois vs. Eastern Illinois. At 3 p.m., the Cougars will battle with Northern Illinois.

Ebert completed the scoring blitz on a direct penalty kick at 69:48.

The Rivermen missed a great chance to get on the scoreboard at 69:10 on a direct penalty kick from 12 yards out.

In Friday's first game at 1 p.m. will be Western Illinois vs. Eastern Illinois. At 3 p.m., the Cougars will battle with Northern Illinois.

Enter . . . The Metro Suburban Athletic Conference

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
Of The Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — A new athletic conference for Granite City's two high schools is almost in sight. In fact, if all goes according to plan, it will begin operation next school year with five schools.

The name for the new loop (though not yet official) will be the Metro Suburban Athletic Conference. "That's the name we've been batting around," said Edwardsville Athletic Director Dick Ford. "However, it won't be official until approved by the committee, and the conference has been given approval by the various school boards involved."

THE MEMBERS of the new conference will be Granite City North, Granite City South, Edwardsville, Cahokia and Belleville Althoff.

Originally, thought had been among those starting the loop that there be six teams involved. "But we've got to get this thing started with what we've got," said Edwardsville Athletic Director Dick Ford. "We can't just sit around waiting. We can always add another team when the time comes." South Athletic Director Roger Smith said that he wished a sixth team could have been found. "There are a couple of schools we might still add later," he said. "But right now, we'll have to go with five."

NORTH A.D. Bryan Wilkinson feels that "five is better than none at all."

"I think that six or even more schools would be a desirable situation," he said. "In fact, O'Fallon and Mascoutah could possibly leave the Mississippi Valley Conference in the future because of their growing size. Those two teams would be ideal for us."

The names Mount Vernon and Centralia have been batted around when talk of the new conference has come up. What about them? They're long-time members of the South Seven Conference, one with as much prestige and tradition around the state as the Southwestern Conference. "While they have listened to us, they haven't really shown as much interest in us as we have in them," said Wilkinson. "But the other members of the conference have sort of been wanting to get those two schools out of the conference for quite a while now."

"They feel Centralia and Mount Vernon are getting to be too big," he said. "In fact the issue of dropping them and adding Murphysboro came to a vote a couple of years ago, but failed by one vote."

The reason that the conference could drop two schools and add one and still keep the name South Seven is because there have been eight schools in the loop for nearly 20 years, since Carbondale was added in the 1950's. ACCORDING to Smith, the A.D.'s of each school have been meeting and ironing out schedules in at least two conference sports, for beginning play next year.

"We've been scheduling basketball and football," said Smith. "There are the two sports that are the most involved when it comes to making — and breaking — schedules and contracts."

"For the most part, the scheduling hasn't been too hard," added Smith. "Because we already play most of the conference teams at least once."

"But the problems arose because in conference, you have to play each team twice in each sport. That means I had to drop some schools from next year's schedule in both football and basketball."

AMONG THE SCHOOLS dropped by South in basketball are Quippy Notre Dame and Belleville East (once). In football, South will not be playing Alton and Collinsville.

"We've got the schedules for these two sports, but we're going to have to wait on approval from the boards before we go on into the other sports," said Smith. "The others aren't as involved as basketball and football."

The only real holdup now on the new loop is the writing of by-laws and a constitution. The constitution, the committee in charge of that are Gilbert Wainwright, principal at Edwardsville High School who is also the spokesman for the new conference, and Glenn Schaate, the athletic director at Cahokia High School. They had their first meeting in Edwardsville Tuesday night.

"I HOPE we can get these by-laws and constitution done fairly quickly," said Schmitzel. "I can't put an exact date on it, of course, but once we get it started it shouldn't take too long."

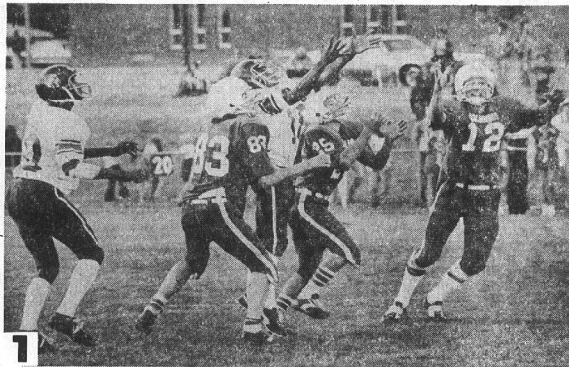

"We'll be using constitutions and by-laws from other conferences as our guide," said Schmitzel. "But we'll also be adding some of our own."

The formation of the new conference begins a new era in area sports history. Most of the members of the MSC will be from the heart of the Southwestern Conference. In fact, they all will be except North and Belleville Althoff. That's a lot of sports nostalgia.

Take for instance South. The school.

North vs. Mt. Vernon . . . SOMEBODY'S got to win

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
Of The Press-Record
MOUNT VERNON — Brad Pancost isn't optimistic. He's not crying, but he is a realist.

Pancost is the head football coach at Mount Vernon High School, the opponent for Granite City North's Steelers (6-4) this Saturday night in Mount Vernon (7:30). Pancost's Rams are the owners of a 1-3 record, their lone victory coming over O'Fallon 20-14 in overtime the first week of the season. Since then Mount Vernon has dropped three straight, including last week's 35-14 shellacking at the hands of South Seven power Harrisburg (Mount Vernon is a member of the South Seven). "We're young, small and inexperienced," said Pancost. "That just about explains why we're 1-3." "We've been in most of our games and had chances to win them," he said. "For the first time, we had West Frankford down 14-0 in the fourth quarter and ended up losing the game. That game against O'Fallon should never have gone into overtime. We had them down 14-0 in the fourth quarter too. But at least we did win that one." At least there's one problem that hasn't hit Mount Vernon this season. Injuries. That's something North can't say.

"Thank God we haven't been hit with a lot of injuries," said Pancost. "We've only got 29 guys on the team, and just about everybody goes both ways." "If there were a lot of injuries, that would just about be 'all she wrote'." Injuries are something that have hit Granite City North. Starting quarterback Tim Dudley out. Center Bill Kafalas out. The last reads like an emergency admittance list. But Steele coach Tom Wyrstok isn't singing the blues. "We're improving week after week," he said. "You never like to lose, of course, but I thought we made lots of improvements against Roxana (a 20-14 loss).

"I'll tell you," laughed Wyrstok. "They (Mount Vernon) are in about the same boat we are. Somebody's got to win this one." Mount Vernon returns 10 players from last year's team. That could mean they want a little revenge. The Rams lost a 20-14 double-overtime decision to North a year ago in Granite City.

Mount Vernon's starting quarterback is about the only player on the squad who doesn't play both ways (offense and defense). QB Tom Stables stands 6-1 and weighs 165 pounds.

Warriors face stiff test in Edwardsville

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
Of The Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — When the Granite City South Warriors face the Edwardsville High School Tigers here tomorrow (Friday) night, they'll be facing a team which has been in the same boat as they have . . . to an extent, that is.

The Tigers of Coach Dick Ford enter Friday's contest with a 2-2 record . . . that's one more win than South. But then Edwardsville hasn't had to face the likes of Jefferson City, Mo.

Edwardsville has defeated Belleville Althoff and Alton (last week by a 12-0 score). The Tigers lost to Belleville West (18-0) and to Cahokia (the team which defeated South 7-0 last week), by a score of 14-7.

"We've sort of been up and down this year," said Ford. "I think our offense is getting better, but we had quite a few mistakes the first couple of games or so. It kind of spattered."

"It wasn't any one aspect of our offense that you could pinpoint, either," said Ford. "We just weren't executing properly."

"That might not bother the coach of a young team," Ford doesn't have one (a young team). "We have a squad of mostly seniors," he said. "I'm just glad we ironed those things out on offense before it got too late."

It might just be too late for Ford as far as a chance at a Southwestern Conference championship is concerned. Both of his squad's losses have been to SWC schools, and this is the final school year that Edwardsville will compete in the loop (see related article this page).

Edwardsville is quarterbacked by 6-4 senior Steve Jackson, and operates out of a wishbone-attack. "I think it gives us an added dimension," said Ford. "We always have the option to throw or keep it on the ground, and since there are three running backs, defenses have to prepare differently for us than for other teams." The three running backs in the Tiger offense are fullback Andre Bennett (6-1, 180 pounds), and running backs Mark Buchheim (5-9, 175) and Kevin Lewis (5-6, 160).

South will be coming off that one-TD loss to Cahokia last Friday in the annual homecoming affair at South. In spite of out-gaining and out-hustling the Comanches all night, South couldn't find the end zone and fell 7-0. But Warrior coach Stan Wojcik isn't too worried about his club. "If we can get any kind of offense at all out of it, we'll still be a good ball club. It's not too late for that."

The Warriors are missing starting running back Dave Mahaffey, out with an injured shoulder, but expected to see some action Friday.

Last week, Cahokia successfully shut-down the South running attack. But it's the South defense that worries Ford. "They're really coming along on defense," he said. "They really take it to the opposition, they don't sit around and wait for things to happen, they MAKE things happen. That's a mark of a good defensive ball club."

Stan Wojcik hopes the Warriors are a good ball club on BOTH sides of the line tomorrow night.

Trojans want revenge for 'mud bowl' loss

BREESE — When Madison's Trojans host Breese Mater Dei Saturday afternoon, they'll be facing a team that's EITHER 2-2 or 3-1. But nobody's sure which.

The reason Mater Dei doesn't know its record is that the school is protesting a 14-9 loss to Breese Central on Sept. 22.

"We're somewhere between 2-2 and 3-1," laughed Mater Dei coach Joel Sheridan. "We've already protested to the IHSA and they turned us down. Our next step is to appeal to the executive board, which we are going to do."

The reason for the protest is that in the Sept. 22 game, Breese Central was given an extra down on a drive that scored the winning touchdown with less than a minute remaining.

Now to the subject at hand. Madison vs. Mater Dei. The Trojans are out for revenge. Last season they traveled to Breese, played in a torrential downpour, led 19-6 at halftime and ended up losing 20-19.

"We want this one," said Madison coach

Nick Jakich. "But with our injuries, it's going to be hard . . . VERY hard."

Mater Dei is coming off a 20-19 victory over East St. Louis Assumption last week. "It was a big win after that thing with Central," said Sheridan. "We had over 150 yards passing against them and had a good day running, too."

Sheridan said that his squad is good in one aspect of the game. Lacking advantage of whatever the opposing defense will give them.

"We have enough confidence in our passing game and our ground attack to use it . . . a lot if we have to," he said. "So far, we've had two good passing games and two good running ones."

Leading the passing attack will be quarterback Doug Hollencamp, a 5-10 165 pound senior. "He's not very big, but he's smart and uses what he has got to his advantage," said Sheridan. "But when we've had to run, we're best doing it off-tackle."

Starting time for the Madison-Breese Mater Dei contest is set for 1 p.m. Saturday at Madison High School.

Knights down Waterloo, 2-1

COLLINSVILLE — Lutheran High School evened its record at 3-3 with a 2-1 overtime victory over Waterloo.

With a strong breeze blowing, Waterloo enjoyed the advantage the first period, while the Lutheran High Knights had some good opportunities the second period. The first score of the game came as time expired in the third period. A Waterloo forward dribbled through the defense and scored.

The Knights put the pressure on in the last period and scored with five minutes remaining on a beautifully timed header. Brian Seim of Collinsville, with an assist from Mark Strieker of Edwardsville.

The overtime was scoreless, so the outcome was decided on penalty kicks. Lutheran High put in 1 out of 5 while Waterloo could not get 3 out of 5.

Chuck Gerstenacker, Steve York, Brian Seim, all of Collinsville, and Doug Weaver of Granite City, converted on the penalty kicks while Mark Strieker made the two important saves at the goal.

Lutheran High's next game is today, 4 p.m. at Wood River.

SAM NESBITT (left) and teammate Greg Maag, Nesbitt, from Granite City, is SIUE's top cross country runner and gives much of the credit to pressure from Maag.

Girls tennis action

Warriorettes down Althoff, 3-2

BELLEVILLE — Granite City South's girls tennis team narrowly defeated tough Belleville Althoff here Tuesday to remain as one of only two undefeated squads in the area. The final score was 3-2.

"I really thought we had a chance to go undefeated at the beginning of the season," said Susan Squires, playing number three singles for the Warriorettes, had a little one player, Christy Bauer, easily defeated Althoff's Kelly Graham 6-2, 6-3.

The number two singles player for South (and the only undefeated player on the team) Laura Gabriel, also had an easy time with her opponent, handing Marby Whitehead a 6-2, 6-1 setback.

Susan Squires, playing number three singles for the Warriorettes, had a little split end who took Schooley's place in the starting lineup, Jeff Barnes, caught four passes. . . . The fact remains that the team only passed that ball 10 times the whole game.

"I just feel that a more wide-open passing attack is what is needed."

That brings another question to mind. Would Schooley have left the team if his record were 3-0 instead of 0-2-1? "I just don't know," he said. "I really don't think there is any way we could have been 3-0 with the style football we were playing."

One of the main reasons Schooley decided on going to Illinois upon graduation from South was that former South head coach Wayne Williams was an assistant coach under Blackmun. But when Blackmun was given the ax, so were most of his assistant coaches.

Williams now coaches at Alton High School. Did his departure from Illinois have any effect upon Schooley?

"Oh, I guess a little," he said.

"I really haven't given any thought to transferring to another school," said Schooley. "Right now, my only thoughts are on the books."

"I'm a pre-law major and I have to get my grades up a little. . . . I'm not in law school yet."

SO LAST WEEKEND, Tom Schooley came to Granite City for the first time since leaving for fall practice on Aug. 16. "I went out to Arlington and played a little golf," said Schooley. "I was sort of good to relax and go home."

What did Schooley do Saturday afternoon? The answer came without hesitation. "I listened to the Illinois football game on the radio."

Pressure...

By STAN BRANDMEYER
for The Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — "You can't run real fast races just by yourself. If you have someone to work with, it's easier," was the response of Sam Nesbitt, top harrier at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, as he spoke of his own cross-country philosophy.

Nesbitt, a Granite City native, first took an interest in the sport when he was a junior at his high school (South) in the "Steel City." Today, only six years later, he looks forward to the Notre Dame Invitational in South Bend, tomorrow (Friday) as the Cougars' top runner. His coach at South was the veteran cross-country mentor, Dick Harmon.

The well-mannered Nesbitt spoke humbly about his future aspirations as a coach for high school cross-country and said he sees running as an emotional release.

Nesbitt stated that his cross-country days at SIUE have been a definite period of growth. "I enjoy running," he said, "but when it begins to be too much of a job, I slack off. But this year everything is falling into place."

He went on to say he was surprised to be the Cougars' top runner this year, but he attributes the bulk of his success to relaxation before and after the matches.

He also attributes much of his success so far this season to his teammate, Greg Maag of Edwardsville. "Greg keeps the pressure on me," he explained, "and makes me do my best."

Aside from his father, who was once a Golden Gloves boxer, Nesbitt said he is the first in his family to be involved in sports on a college level.

Everything Nesbitt says seems to reflect team pride and overall respect for his cohorts.

Granite Cityan Sam Nesbitt attributes teammate Greg Maag with his success

"I'd even be satisfied with being the fifth man on the team, instead of the first, just to go to the Notre Dame meet, but it's nice to be first," Nesbitt admitted.

According to him, the Notre Dame course is one where time rather than individual placement is of utmost importance. He hopes to run a personal best of 25 minutes for the flat track.

Nesbitt recognizes the importance of dedication and determination. He added, "After a hard day's workout, when you come home, you know you've done something."

John Flamer's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville cross-country team warmed up for its trip to South Bend, Ind., this weekend by romping over MacMurray College, 15-50.

Saturday morning, on the SIUE 4.35-mile course.

The Cougar harriers will participate in the Notre Dame meet, one of 35 teams in the Gold division. Forty-seven teams will compete in the Blue division.

In the meet Saturday, the Cougar runners were again paced by Granite City's Sam Nesbitt, who toured the course in 27:12; in second, but officially timed at the same time, was the Cougars' Greg Maag.

Other SIUE times were: Gary Matsuda, third, 27:56; Russ Columbia, fourth, 28:20; Steve Marfia, fifth, 28:25; Paul Kish, sixth, 28:33; Dave Dobkowski, seventh, 28:40; Steve Conrey, ninth, 29:05; Jon Thompson, 10th, 29:45; and Tim Bell, 12th, 30:20.

The Cougars are now 7-10 for the season.

Guessers

years in both football and baseball. He is also the president of the Madison Board of Education. He is a graduate of Illinois State University.

Saputo, 25, is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School. While at CHS, he played soccer under the coaching of Tom Wyrostek, North's present football coach) as well as baseball. He has a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from SIUE-Edwardsville.

Both guessers agree that only one of the three Quad-Cities area football teams will win this weekend.

Granite City South's Warriors. They play tomorrow (Friday) night at Edwardsville.

"South has a good, solid corps of good ball players," said Saputo. "They haven't been getting many breaks, but with a break or two, they could come up with a big win."

Dymas feels that the time is right for a South victory. "If there ever was a prime time for a victory, it's now," he said. "South played a good game last week, even though they didn't show much on offense, their defense looked very good. They're due."

In picking Granite City North and Madison's games this weekend, neither guesser was very generous. "The game is almost a toss-up," said Dymas about North's Saturday trip to Mount Vernon. "But since the game is at Mount Vernon, I'll take them, simply because of the home field advantage."

Saputo feels that North has the tools, but that Mount Vernon will have something on its side that North hasn't found this season. . . . luck.

"Even though Mount Vernon is fragile, lady luck will prevail and North will lose again."

Madison should also lose on Saturday to Breese Mater Dei, according to our guessers. "Mater Dei has momentum with its victory last week over Assumption, so they should be able to handle the Trojans easily," said Saputo.

"Madison's going to be lucky to have a program at the end of the season the way the injuries are hitting the Cougars," said Dymas. "I also think Mater Dei plays a little tougher schedule."

On the college scene, both guessers agree that Missouri should be able to overcome the "Illinois jinx" that has hit it the last two seasons and handle the Illini easily in Columbia Saturday. But on the subject of the SIU-Illinois State contest, the prognosticators disagree for the first time.

Even though SIU is strong, ISU is ready for an upset and will defeat its sister school from the south," said Saputo. But Dymas disagrees.

LAST WEEK: Our Guest Guessers at a week ago ended in a tie as far as their records were concerned. But neither had what one could call a good week.

Bob Harry Briggs Jr. and Damian "Catfish" Caffrey ended with identical 3-4 records. Briggs correctly picked Roxana over Granite City North, but was wrong in guessing that Syracuse would defeat Illinois.

Caffrey picked North and the Illini.

CB radio theft

A Granite City officer was called to aid a sheriff's deputy at the rear of Granite City High School North at 8:20 p.m. Monday, where the van of Robert Hinson, 2705 Maryville Road, had been entered by thieves. A citizens band radio and microphone, valued at $170, was taken from a slide mount, fixed in the van's ceiling. The deputy said Hinson had seen two youths nearby who ran away and were chased by the victim into the athletic field. A search of the area was made. Hinson said one youth had long blond hair and was fairly tall. A second youth was shorter in height. The deputy talked with three youths walking on Lakeview Drive, a short distance from the athletic field, but no arrests were made.

Halloween just around the corner

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

The bright blue weather of October is here at last, and children all over the state are beginning to make plans for Halloween. Once again, we pass on tips for Halloween safely from the Illinois Department of Public Health. These safety hints are issued to help make Halloween a safe and happier event for children.

First, costumes. Whether they are bought or homemade, be sure they are fire resistant. Look for "flameproof" labels when purchasing costumes, masks, beards or wigs. Also, costumes should be short enough so children won't trip on them, and light and bright enough to be clearly visible to motorists on dimly lit streets. Children can carry flashlights or reflective tape can be sewn on their costumes.

Masks and other disguises should not restrict vision or breathing. Plastic bags over faces can cause suffocation. The safest mask is a natural one made of cosmetics or charcoal, applied directly to the skin. Another precaution is to be sure candle-light jack-o-lanterns are not set on doorsteps or other places where children may brush against them. Don't let children carry candles or other open flame, even inside a pumpkin.

A responsible older person should accompany young "trick-or-treaters," and keep them constantly in sight. Before your children go out on Halloween, caution them against running across lawns or backyards where they might trip or fall in the darkness. Also caution them against dashing into the streets from between parked cars, and against eating the treats they collect until the candy, apples and other "goodies" have been carefully examined by an adult. In recent years, there have been incidents of real-life "monsters" placing hazardous substances in treat bags. Finally, if driving your car on Halloween, take special care to watch out for the young ghosts and goblins. They may be too excited to watch out for you. If all these precautions are followed, Halloween can be an evening of fun and not end in tragedy.

STRAI, WALLETT, CASH

Supplemental insurance is topic

Philip McGovern, representing Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co., explained supplemental insurance programs available to senior citizens at last week's meeting of Kirkpatrick Golden Age Circle Club.

Meeting in the Kirkpatrick Recreation Center, the members repeated the pledge to the flag in unison and President Ruby Corbitt opened the session with prayer.

Officers submitted reports and Caroline Lux said birthday cards were sent to Jewell Patterson and Ethel Robinson, who are living at nursing homes.

Cards also were mailed to several members who are ill, Mrs. Lux said, including Gloria Ansley, John Winkmeier, Augusta Lampe, Alysa Seidel, Theresa Walkenbach, Lillian Gregory, Mildred Johnson, George Durbin and Neely Pashko.

The death of Mr. Frank Harris, a club member, was reported.

Edgar Paddock and Mrs. Corbitt presented a summary of a meeting they attended concerning the Community Action Program, sponsored by the Visiting Nurses Association.

There are six visiting nurses on duty in the Granite City area, Paddock said. He said a "Senior Action Forum" is scheduled

Oct. 16 and Oct. 17 in Springfield and indicated he plans to attend.

Arthur Lindner and Grace Paddock were appointed to a nominating committee to prepare a slate of new officers. Bay View hears Miss Lily Dod

A program on Women In The Development of America was continued with a study of two little known women, presented by Miss Lily Dod at a meeting last week of Bay View Reading Club.

In her review, Miss Dod selected Winifred Mason Huck who was born in Chicago in the 20th century. Her father, a U.S. Congressman died in 1922, and Mrs. Huck decided to run for his seat in Congress.

Although she was a wife and mother with little money to spend on a political campaign, Mrs. Huck was elected in 1922, the first woman and mother to serve in that particular office.

The second segment of the program related to a woman from the Revolutionary days, Deborah Sampson, born in 1760 at Plympton, Mass. Her parents died when she was five years old and she was sent to live with relatives and at age 10 was indentured as a housemaid.

Unhappy with her life she soon enlisted in the Army and was able to conceal the fact she was a woman until she was wounded in battle for a second time. Miss Sampson was discharged in 1783 and received a disability pension of $4 a month for life.

In her honor, the Daughters of American Revolution of Brockton and the town of Tryouts Saturday will take place at St. John Church, 307 W. Clay, Collinsville.

Sunday's auditions are set at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., Granite City. Audition hours will be from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. on both dates.

Plumpton provided a plaque to be placed in the town in 1906.

The inscription read, "She donned a Continental uniform, fought to fame and earned a veteran's pension."

Mrs. E. H. Arnovitz, 2107 Amos Ave., hosted the meeting in her home and served a dessert course to 15 members prior to the business meeting.

Mrs. Herman Huxel, president, presided at the session with Mrs. Walter Klein leading the group in the pledge to the flag and the club collect.

A note of thanks was read from Mrs. Kate Faulkner of Lebanon, a former member, on the receipt of the club yearbook.

Mrs. Lawrence McCauley announced a change of plans for the Oct. 12 outing planned for the members. A trip to Principia College will be preceded with a 11:30 a.m. luncheon on Thursday, Oct. 12, at the Stratford Hotel in Alton, instead of the original plan.

All members are to meet at the Alton Hotel at 11:30 a.m. and anyone needing a ride is to contact Mrs. Alfred Kruskie, it was noted.

Mrs. Arthur Buente introduced a new member, Mrs. Elmer (Dina) Gruen, and all answered roll call with a current event item.

Burglary at South High

Desks and cabinets in Room 127 at Granite City High School South were ransacked and glue was sprayed about the room in a weekend burglary, it was reported this week.

Police said entry to the school apparently was gained through an open window to the room, which is used by department heads. Damage was confined to the one room because the door into the other parts of the school was locked, police were told.

Most health workers in Illinois are unlicensed

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. Who licenses health care facilities in Illinois?

A. The Department of Public Health licenses hospitals, nursing homes (long-term care facilities), skilled, intermediate and shelter, and home-health agencies.

The Department of Public Health is also the inspector and certifying agency of the hospital areas of mental health facilities for the federal government's Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Q. Who licenses the professional personnel within health care facilities or organizations?

A. The Department of Registration and Education licenses 33 professions. Q. Who is training licensed, certified and/or registered health personnel?

A. Personnel who are licensed, certified and/or registered receive their training in educational programs administered by universities, community colleges, secondary schools and hospitals.

The education programs are approved through the responsible state agency, such as the Illinois Department of Registration and Education, or professional associations such as the American Society of Radiologic Technologists.

The purpose of program approval and health worker credentialing is to protect and promote the public interest.

Physicians, dentists, professional and practical nurses and allied health technicians-therapists generally come under the protective umbrella of licensure, registration and/or certification.

Q. Who are the unlicensed health personnel and where are they trained?

A. Approximately eighty percent of those persons giving direct nursing care are unlicensed nurse aides. Illinois has no law requiring minimum educational standards for these workers. Many of them are hired without any prior preparation and then participate in on-the-job training experiences of varying degrees of quality.

Some receive training in formal education programs in health care facilities, proprietary schools and public secondary schools and community colleges.

The Illinois Office of Education, Department of Adult Vocational and Technical Education, reports that it funded aide-level programs in public secondary and community colleges which produced approximately 10,000 aide workers.

Q. What is the state of Illinois doing about untrained nurse aides in health care facilities or organizations in Illinois?

A. Illinois, through inter-agency cooperation and health care providers, is studying possible legislation to require mandatory training for nurse aides. Any recommendations that private citizens may have regarding this issue may be addressed to Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal's office.

Shiokari Pass film at Emmanuel

Shiokari Pass, a new film from the producers of The Hiding Place, will be shown at Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road, Sunday, Oct. 8. The one-hour color release from World Wide Pictures will be shown once beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Shiokari Pass is unique among World Wide Pictures productions. Although it has an English soundtrack, it was originally produced for showing to Japanese audiences. It was filmed entirely in Japan with a Japanese cast crew, and depicts the delicate beauty of that country. The drama of the story unfolds against a backdrop of Japan's spring blossoms, snowcapped mountains, and whispering native music.

A true story, Shiokari Pass is based on the international best seller by Ayako Miura. Nearly two million readers have been touched by this story of the enduring love of a young couple at the turn of the century.

The Rev. William H. Young, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, extends an invitation to the community to attend this special showing and added, "Shiokari Pass is the kind of film that will be enjoyed and remembered by the entire family."

There will be no admission charge for the film program, he added.

After the gifts were opened by Mrs. Tanase, a buffet dinner was served with cake and champagne punch.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Miss Amy Gonterman, Mrs. Selma Bangert, Mrs. Annie Kuhlman and Mrs. Helen Mayzer.

Other guests attending included Mesdames Paul Oro, Joseph Nemeth, Margaret Nemeth, Maggi Mayhall, Darla Mayhall, Thelma Pyles, Theresa Danco, Eunice Harper, Phyllis Beaver, Eunice Oro, Annie Lengyel, John Gonterman, Edward Byrne, Regina Oro, Margaret Romine, Betty Lengyel, Karen Lengyel and Al Hedges.

Capitalism

late 18th Century England. It was a period of minimum government.

The industrial revolution — perhaps the most important single event in human history — seems to have occurred without the English government even noticing. The time it did, it was too late, happily — otherwise it would probably have stopped it. It is almost inevitable that government, particularly an active, interventionist government, should view free enterprise with a degree of hostility, since it constitutes a countervailing power in the state.

The tendency, then, is to cut free enterprise down to size, and this may be done in a number of ways.

In the U.S., the characteristic technique is government regulation and legal intervention, and this course has been far more pervasive and strident since the ecology swing into action.

In Britain the technique is both through direct assault — nationalization — and slow starvation.

In a way, nationalization is ineffective, since it allows the public to make comparisons between the performance of the nationalized sector and that of the free sector — nearly always to the latter's advantage.

Starvation is more insidious. By this I mean the progressive transfer, by taxation and other means, of resources from the private to the public sector.

In 1968, for instance, public expenditure in Britain was a proportion of GNP was just over 40 percent. By 1975, twenty years later, it has risen to nearly 60 percent.

The fourth factor, the trade unions, play an important part. In Britain, for instance, the trade unions can rightly claim that capitalism is inefficient, because they make sure it is inefficient.

Ford workers in Britain, using exactly the same assembly line machinery as in West Germany, produced between 20 percent and 50 percent fewer automobiles.

The fifth threat — the threat from without — is bound to increase as the military superiority of the Soviet Union over the U.S. is reinforced.

I have never thought that the Communist system would triumph by a direct assault. I have always assumed that it would first establish an overwhelming military

Grant plea approved

A public hearing in the city hall Wednesday night to provide citizen input into an application for a $3.5 million Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) approved the city's plan to seek the grant.

In a brief session attended by only six persons, including four city officials, Arvil Taylor, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, explained the purpose of the grant application.

He said $3 million of the grant, if approved, would go toward construction of the proposed downtown overpass construction and $500,000 would finance a housing rehabilitation program in which private capital also would be generated by the city's outlay of funds.

The city is awaiting permission from the Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) to file the UDAG application.

The team of Jack Floyd and B. Lundick will lead the Scotch two-some golf tournament held at the Granite City Army Depot Sunday.

The team of Jack Wilson and Lee Wiltse was second, even though they had the same score, an 82 as did Floyd and Lundick. However, a birdie was made by Floyd and Lundick on the very first hole, so they were awarded the win.

Russic and Nick Lombardi were third with a score of 83, John Taros and Bruce Cowens were fourth with an 84 and there was a tie for fifth place.

William Ridenhour and Randy Stroyoff tied the team of Joe Stroyoff and Monte Gray with an 85.

East St. Louis federal court for Madison County as of April '79

President Carter on Monday signed into law legislation to change boundaries of the federal court districts in Illinois. The goal he cited is to provide more efficient court administration and service.

The legislation, which was introduced in April by Senators Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) and Adlai E. Stevenson (D-Ill.), realigns the federal court boundaries to create a Northern, Central and Southern District. The new districts replace the existing Northern, Southern and Eastern Districts.

The realignment makes no changes in the locations of federal district courts, but will put Madison County in a new district based in East St. Louis, instead of the present Springfield headquarters.

The changes in the court boundaries will become effective six months from Oct. 2. The Percy-Stevenson measure was approved by the Senate in August. A companion bill, introduced by Congressman Robert McCleary (R-Ill.), from Rialtsack (R-Ill.)

and Henry J. Hyde (R-Ill.), passed the House last month. Percy said the proposal, which was the result of his request for a major study of the federal courts in Illinois, better addresses east-west flow of commerce in Illinois and will better serve the transportation needs of many attorneys, clients and witnesses.

"This will greatly reduce the cost and inconvenience now faced by many Illinoisans using the federal court system,"

Percy said. "It will bring together in each district areas and individuals with a more common identity and community of interest."

Stevenson said efficient judicial administration of the federal court system in Illinois required realignment of the present boundaries that have not been changed since 1905.

"The realignment of federal judicial districts and the creation of new Central and Southern Districts in this legislation establish a more sensible, convenient and geographically division of the state and will improve the service and accessibility of the federal court system to the people of Illinois," Stevenson said.

Madison County remains Southern but that title now applies to the southern third of the state, instead of the east-central area.

Leave without paying for meal

Four youths walked out of the House of Pancakes, 1506 Pontoon Road, at 4:40 a.m. Tuesday, without paying for their $17.50 food order.

One youth pushed a waitress' hand away from his arm when she attempted to stop them from leaving.

The foursome ran from the restaurant and got into a brown auto on the parking lot, but then all alighted from the vehicle and ran west on Pontoon Road.

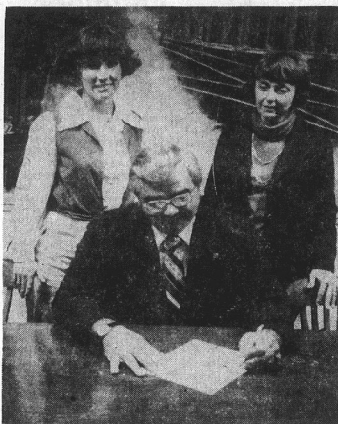

Three of the youths were described as between five feet, 10 inches and five feet, 11 inches tall.

One had long, light brown hair and sideburns to the chin. He was wearing a gold colored tee shirt and jeans.

The second youth had "dirty" blond shoulder-length hair and wore an orange tee shirt and jeans.

The third was described as having shoulder-length black hair and wore a black tee shirt and jeans. No description was available of the fourth youth.

The auto in which the youths initially attempted to leave was towed away by a police authorized towing service.

need for increased Respect for Life at all stages."

Prof. Brennan will speak following a march by abortion opponents which will begin from the front lot of Granite City High School South at 10 a.m. Saturday and proceed down Madison Avenue to Memorial Park. The march is being sponsored by the Granite City Right to Life chapter.

Toss a hearty main-dish salad

By MARJORIE RICE

Salad, contrary to what some restaurants may have you believe, is more than a dish of chopped iceberg lettuce with a cherry tomato or two and a glob of sticky blue cheese dressing.

As practiced at some of the better salad bars, salad can be an entire meal, replete with tiny shrimp, kidney beans or garbanzo, raw broccoli and cauliflower, grated cheese, croutons and other embellishments.

With the addition of a whole-grain bread, a main-dish salad is an excellent blend of nutrients, encompassing all the four food groups. Combine slices of beef or ham, chunks or slices of cheese (or a dairy-based dressing), fruit (or tomatoes) and vegetables (particularly dark green spinach, or bright orange carrots), and you have a delicious and nutrient-packed dinner.

Practically anything goes on a main-dish salad. Cooked shellfish is an excellent, if somewhat expensive, choice. But you can stretch the seafood by chopping it into a creamy dressing.

Leftover cooked beef, chicken or ham (even luncheon meat) goes well in a main-dish salad.

Marinate leftover vegetables in the vinaigrette and toss them into a salad. Peas and green beans are particularly good, as are tender-crisp broccoli, cauliflower and carrots.

Beans such as kidney beans and garbanzoes, are excellent additions, packing in a lot of protein and satisfying hearty appetites.

Here are some main-dish salad ideas.

BEEF-EATER'S SALAD
1 qt. torn lettuce leaves
3 lb. roast beef strips (about 2 cups)
3 small boiled potatoes, sliced
1/2 lb. mushrooms, thinly sliced
1/4 cup sliced celery
6 red or green pepper rings
Beef-Eater Dressing (see below)
6 dill pickle fans

Put lettuce in large, shallow salad bowl. Arrange roast beef, potatoes, mushrooms, celery and pepper rings on top of greens. Before serving, toss with Beef-Eater Dressing. Serve in individual salad bowls and add a dill pickle fan. Serves six.

Beef-Eater Dressing: Combine and mix well two-thirds cup salad oil, 1/4 cup sliced dill pickles, 1/4 cup dill pickle liquid, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 teaspoon thyme and a few grains pepper.

Dill Pickle Fans: Cut dill pickles in four lengthwise slices without cutting through pickle end. Spread out sections to form open fan.

HUSSAR SALAD
3 cups diced cooked potatoes
2 cups diced roast beef
1 cup diced apples
Two-thirds cup chopped dill

Pickles
Hussar Dressing (see below)
1 cup diced cooked beef
Lettuce leaves

Gently mix together potatoes, roast beef, apples and pickles. Toss with Hussar Dressing. Cover and refrigerate several hours.

Before serving, mix in beef. Line a platter with lettuce leaves. Arrange salad on top of lettuce. Garnish with apple wedges and pickle fans as desired. Serves six.

HUSSAR DRESSING
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tbsp. salad oil
1 tbsp. dill pickle liquid
1 tsp. minced onion
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper

Thoroughly mix together all ingredients.

ITALIAN FISHERMAN'S SALAD

1 lb. vermicelli or other thin spaghetti
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 cups thinly sliced celery
10 to 12 green onions (including green tops), thinly sliced
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 jar (2 oz.) sliced or chopped pimientos
1 qt. ranch-type creamy Italian dressing (recipe follows)
1 to 1 1/2 lbs. cooked shrimp, or crab, or combination
1/4 cup slivered almonds, toasted and coarsely chopped
2 to 3 tbsps. slivered almonds, toasted

Break vermicelli into bite-size pieces, about 1-inch or smaller; cook in boiling salted water according to package directions until barely tender. Drain, and while still warm, toss with green pepper, celery, onions, eggs, pimientos and dressing. Chill at least 24 hours, preferably two or three days.

At serving time, mix in shrimp, crab and chopped almonds. Spoon into large bowl lined with romaine or other lettuce leaves. Sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds. Makes 12 to 16 servings, depending on menu.

Ranch-Type Creamy Italian Dressing: With a wire whisk or a fork, mix two packages (0.5 ounces each) ranch-type creamy Italian dressing with two cups buttermilk and two cups mayonnaise. Blend well before adding to salad. For best flavor, prepare a day ahead.

PERINO'S CHICKEN LORENZO SALAD

1 head of cooked chicken
1/2 head iceberg lettuce
1/4 tomato
1/4 hard cooked egg, chopped
2 fillets of anchovy

LORENZO DRESSING
1/4 tsp. salt
Dash fresh ground pepper
1 tsp. red wine vinegar
3 tbsps. olive oil
1 tsp. ketchup
2 tbsps. chopped water-cress leaves

DILLY AND DELICIOUS. Dill pickle fans add flavor and decoration to Beef-Eater's Salad, hearty enough for a main dish. It's a way to stretch leftover roast into another meal.

Cook chicken breast in simmering water with pieces of carrot, onion, celery and parsley and no salt until tender. Cool in broth.

In a 1-quart bowl, cut breast of chicken into 1/2-inch pieces, coarsely chop egg and dice fillets of anchovy. Save two whole iceberg lettuce leaves for garnish and cut 1 1/4 cups of lettuce into bite size chunks. Add to rest of ingredients.

In a separate bowl, combine salt, pepper, vinegar, oil and ketchup. Blend together with a fork. Add the water-cress on the last beat.

Add a small amount of the dressing at a time to the salad mixture. Toss gently after each addition. When each item has a coating of dressing, stop. Put the reserved leaves of lettuce on a cold salad plate. Top tossed salad in center. Garnish with a sprig of watercress and black olives. Makes one luncheon salad.

Cards list health factors

Like any good friends, Ray Grisham sends "get well" cards when his friends are ill. But unlike most, he also sends "stay well" cards before they get sick.

Grisham, district sales manager of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's Granite City district office, said that the cards he sends aren't merely greetings. "Stay well" cards are offered by Metropolitan's Health and Safety Education Division as reminders of good health habits and to prepare people to cope with health emergencies.

Metropolitan's "assortment" includes cards on heart attack signals, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), immunization, emergency medical information and an emergency phone number finder.

Grisham said that the company began to distribute individual cards in 1975. The subject of a public service campaign, each card was made available from every Metropolitan sales representative.

"The immunization card provides for a record covering each child in the family, and also serves as a reminder to parents of the schedule of vaccinations against each childhood disease."

"The Early Warnings of a Heart Attack card describes the symptoms victims might feel, any combination of which would increase the likelihood that he or she is in need of prompt medical attention. It also provides a list of crucial things that families can do before an emergency strikes."

"The CPR card shows how to restore breathing and heartbeat, and can serve as a reminder to those who have had proper instruction," he said.

"The emergency medical information card provides basic health information about the bearer, such as blood type and normal blood pressure. It's especially helpful for those with a history of illness, or an allergy to certain foods or medication, so that if the victim of an emergency is unconscious these important facts will be available to rescuers and physicians.

"The emergency phone number finder provides a place to record the numbers of local police, fire and ambulance, a doctor, poison control center and neighbor. It could save valuable seconds in an emergency."

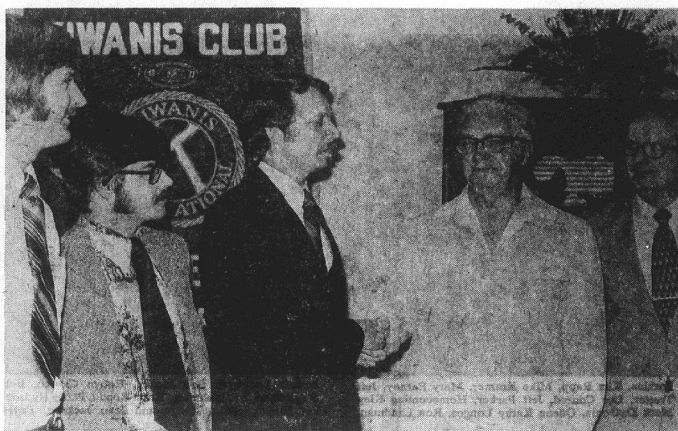

Grisham said he will send a set of stay well cards to anyone requesting them. He can be reached by phone at (318) 876-1573, or at the Granite City district office, 3703 Nameoki Road.

EPA TAKING COMMENTS ON ILLINOIS REQUEST

The Midwest Regional Office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency says it will take comments until Oct. 31 on Illinois' request to assume the authority to issue and enforce wastewater treatment permits for federal facilities in this state.

The request was made by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency under federal Clean Water Act amendments passed last year which would allow states to issue and enforce wastewater permits to federal installations. Regional V Administrator John McGuire said Illinois is the fourth state in the region to submit a request under the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES).

Revenue to state rising 10% yearly

What's happened to state spending, revenues and program costs in the eight years since Illinois enacted a state income tax? Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis spotlights some trends in his current monthly state fiscal report. Some of the highlights:

Since the start of the state income tax, state revenues have increased an average 10 percent annually, running 3 percent ahead of the consumer price index or cost-of-living factor.

Far more state funds are now spent for Medicaid than any other public aid program.

The cost of hospital care in medical assistance cases has risen from an average $258 per recipient in 1976 to $384 in fiscal 1978, an increase of 49 percent in two years.

The state's general funds keeps improving. The available balance on Aug. 31 of this year was $47 million or almost double the comparable balance of $25 million at the end of August a year ago.

Large spending has gone in the "red" for the third straight year. The average: $70 million. Revenues from state taxes continue to rise.

Several faculty and staff members will speak at informal information sessions later in the evening. Those attending and their fields will be Dr. John A. George, aerospace engineering; Kenneth E. Stanger, aircraft maintenance engineering; Arnold D. Held, plant engineering technology; Hilda Ramage of the Admissions Office, and Richard W. Klemm, director of financial aid and placement.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening. The program is free to anyone interested.

Parks College 'night' Oct. 26

Parks College Night will be observed at a meeting of the Engineers Club on Thursday, Oct. 26, at 8 p.m. All high school guidance counselors, interested students and their parents in the bi-state area are being invited to attend. The club is at 4359

Linell Boulevard, St. Louis. Parks College of St. Louis University in Cahokia, Ill., offers bachelor of science degrees in engineering and aviation-related fields. College programs will be discussed by a panel of two students and an alumnus, and Dean Leon Z. Seltzer will be moderator of the panel.

Several faculty and staff members will speak at informal information sessions later in the evening. Those attending and their fields will be Dr. John A. George, aerospace engineering; Kenneth E. Stanger, aircraft maintenance engineering; Arnold D. Held, plant engineering technology; Hilda Ramage of the Admissions Office, and Richard W. Klemm, director of financial aid and placement.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening. The program is free to anyone interested.

Matthew 8:2 "And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

A leper comes to Jesus. He is afflicted with an incurable disease. In his day, he was not permitted to touch or to be touched by anyone. There is no doubt, he has heard of Jesus and the miracles Jesus has performed.

Perhaps Christ was his last choice. It could be that his source of help failed, he would take his own life. This would not be the first or last case of utter despair.

Note the leper's approach to Christ. First, he came to the Lord. He then worshipped him. He does not demand (God owes us), accuse (God put sickness upon me), or beg (please heal me). He makes a simple statement: "Thou canst make me whole." The next verse simply states, "I will." He was cleansed immediately!

Have you a need in your life? Perhaps you should change your approach to God. At any rate, why not ask Him to give you abundant life.

Lutheran Missionary League sets goals

St. John Lutheran Church delegates, Mrs. Pat Azari and Mrs. Lydia Bode, attended the 19th biennial convention of the Southern Illinois District Lutheran Women's Missionary League, held at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Collinsville, last week.

The meeting, which attracted 617, was conducted by the LWML Southern Illinois District, Mrs. Dorothy Mansholt of Litchfield, Ill.

The featured speaker for the day was the Rev. Dr. Theodore Raedeke, Program and Research Director for Project Philip, sponsored by the World Home Bible League. He addressed guests and delegates on the theme "Behold My Son... through His Word." text: John 17:14, which coincided with the theme of the convention—"Behold My Son."

A short skit entitled "Behold Your Leaders" was presented by district officers. It consisted of each officer giving a short report of her duties and what she had done the past year while serving as an officer of the district board.

Mrs. Walter (Helen) Giennap of Warren, Mich., first vice president of the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League gave a report on International Mission Projects.

and other important information about the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

A $20,000 goal to be raised from "mites" the next year will support the following projects: Share Ministry District Chaplaincy Program, KFUP Radio Station, Camp Warburg, Bond and Equipment Fund, Reduction, Rural Ministry in Alabama, Church in Truandrum, Indiana Medical College, and the Lutheran High School—School Van.

An annual contribution of $300 is to be given to the Deacons' Scholarship Fund; the LWML will continue to support subsidized congregations of the Southern Illinois District while financial aid limited to $500 per biennium per applicant. An emergency fund, not to exceed $1000 per biennium, to be administered by the LWML District Board for the opportunity of assisting individuals for personal missionary services.

Officers elected for the next biennium were: Helen Lucht, first vice president; Helen Perschbacher, corresponding secretary; Mary L. Galt, financial secretary; Ruth Ann Mueller, board member-at-large; Bernice Ostermann, pastoral counselor. Rev. Michael.

Fall Mission Week at Nameoki Presbyterian

A Mission Awareness potluck dinner has been planned for Oct. 8th, at 6 p.m. in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, celebrating Fall Mission Week.

JoAnn Watts, in charge of arrangements, has announced that the guest missionary interpreter will be the Rev. William R. Stackhouse, who is a staff member of the Division of Communications Interpretation and Stewardship of the General Assembly Support Agency. He has particular responsibility for the Mission Speaker's Service and participates in the work of the Department of Stewardship Committee.

Recently Rev. Stackhouse served as associate director of the Major Mission Fund of the United Presbyterian Church and before assuming this position, he was responsible for General Mission Interpretation of the staffs of the former Council on Church Support and General Counsel of the United Presbyterian Church.

In 1951, Rev. Stackhouse and his wife, Joan, were appointed as missionaries in Cameroon, West Africa. After returning to the United States in 1953, he served in the Eastern and West Central offices of the former Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations. In 1961, the minister was transferred back to New York as the commission's interpretation secretary.

Rev. Stackhouse graduated from Holy Cross College while serving in the Navy during World War II. He graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1940, and has traveled extensively to observe the church at work, both in the United States and in Asia. All members and friends are urged to attend the potluck dinner and hear Rev. Stackhouse on Sunday evening, Oct. 8th, according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian.

Mrs. Holt presents program

Mrs. Fran Holt presented an unusual and informative program on sewing for members of Precursor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Society, last week.

She was assisted by Mrs. Jean Martin who modeled new style apparel. Mrs. Holt discussed the "stretch and sew" method as well as other methods. She also displayed a coordinated wardrobe which she designed and made for the fall season.

Members and guests met in the home of Mrs. Norma Rains, 2001 Garfield Ave., and Mrs. May Ehling, president, conducted the business session.

Reports were given by Mrs. Jane Laule and Mrs. Arlene Haldaman. Mrs. Ehling announced she received rules for judging the year books from the international.

A review of the sorority City Council meeting was submitted by Mrs. Pat Tsiglaroff. She added all proceeds from the annual Valentine dance will be donated to charity.

"NOSTALGIA"

You're invited to the open house of another new design by R. W. Wolfe Construction Company. "Nostalgia" We've taken the beauty and charm of the past, wide wrap-around porch, private backyard gazebo, oak vanity and pull chain water closet, leaded stain glass windows and antique front door; then we combined it with the convenient luxury items of today: a country kitchen and breakfast room, Kohler's birthday bath, formal dining room, powder room, living room, family room with stone fireplace, game room, four bedrooms, including the master suite - each with its own, en-suite bathroom, central air conditioning, an intriguing cedar closet and an interior cedar and stone wall, with redwood porch and walkways.

Nurses to study 'the adolescent'

The Continuing Education Program in the School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a workshop on "The Adolescent: Sexuality, Contraception, Conception" Oct. 20 from 8:30 until 4:30 p.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center.

An identical workshop was held a month earlier on the SIU at Carbondale campus. Instructors include JoAnn Blevins, Susan Lieber and Barbara Shelton, faculty members in the SIUE School of Nursing.

Purpose of the workshop is to update the care of the adolescent, including the elements of sexuality. Information will be provided on the theoretical framework, as well as psychological and physiological care.

The course is geared toward all nurses who have children, as well as those who care for children. Upon completion, the participant should be able to identify the needs of the adolescent in relationship to contraception and conception, and incorporate relevant data when using the nursing process in the care of the adolescent.

Fee for the workshop is $25. Enrollment is limited to 60. Six contact hours of continuing education credit will be given.

Woman hears noise, discovers fire

Mrs. Betty Warren, 2167 Cleveland Blvd., awoke at 8:30 p.m. Sunday when she heard a noise on her back porch and smelled smoke.

She investigated to find trash in a container on the back porch was ablaze. Granite City firemen extinguished the fire, which caused only minor damage.

Fire investigators have launched an inquiry to determine if the fire was started intentionally. One young man was seen passing the house repeatedly before the fire started.

NON-CREDIT COURSES

The SIUE Office of Conferences and Institutes is offering this fall quarter more than 30 non-credit continuing education programs. These 5-6 week courses meet one night a week for one to two hours, are open to the general community and will be available Oct. 12-Nov. 17. The Office of Conferences and Institutes, Box 36 or 602-2660, has further information.

Tuition tax credit may hinge on timing

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Now that the youngsters are trotting off to college, will they or their parents be able to claim a tuition tax credit when they file for federal income tax returns next year? Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Ill., a co-sponsor of tuition tax credit legislation, believes the answer will be "yes" if Congress takes final action before the Nov. 7 general election.

If the tuition tax credit legislation is held over for a "lame duck" session, Corcoran is not nearly as confident. "If we hold it over until after the election, it would be very easy for opponents to get votes to defeat it," he said.

Corcoran's reasoning is simple: Few congressmen want to deny a tax break to hard-pressed students or parents this close to an election.

But if the decision is delayed until after the election, a congressman could vote against it in the hope voters will forget before the next election rolls around.

A post-election vote also would make a "lame duck" congressman, defeated in the general election and hunting for a job, more susceptible to pressures from the Carter Administration, which opposes the tuition tax credit concept, Corcoran suggested.

Timing is critical. Current plans, admittedly tentative, call for Congress to adjourn on Oct. 7.

The House and Senate leaders have said they will consider extending the adjournment date to mid-October if it looks like they can wrap up the major bills in an extra week to 10 days.

If not, they will come back after the election to clean up their work before the next Congress takes office in January.

The House and Senate have each passed tuition tax credit legislation, but the bills differ in several important ways.

The Senate Bill provides the credits only for college tuition; the House version also includes tuitions paid at private high schools and elementary schools.

The Senate tax credits are up to $250 initially and up to $500 by 1980 for each college student. The House figures range from $100 to $250.

Those differences will have to be resolved by a conference committee named by chairmen of the tax writing committees in each chamber.

The House and Senate would then have to approve the conference report before the legislation is sent to Mr. Carter, who has threatened a veto.

With the Congressional clock ticking away, that conference committee has yet to meet.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Russell Long, D-La., appointed Senate conferees in August when the Senate passed its version of the bill.

Although the House approved its version before the Senate, House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., did not name the House conferees until Sept. 13.

Corcoran doesn't think Ullman delayed in the hope of thwarting tuition tax credits. Rather, he believes Ullman figured there was no rush because the Senate conferees are now preoccupied in resolving conflicts on the tax relief packages approved by the House and Senate. The Senate also is tied up with energy legislation.

"I do not think it was a delaying tactic," Corcoran said.

"It is just recognition that until the energy and tax bills are disposed of, the preoccupation with those issues will make it impossible for the tuition tax conferees to meet."

Corcoran also is still hopeful that tuition tax credits will be amended into the other tax legislation, rather than being sent to Pres. Carter as a separate measure.

As a separate bill, the president could veto it easily. As part of the overall tax package, it would be virtually veto-proof, Corcoran said.

He sees Mr. Carter as possibly not now being so quick to veto tuition tax credits, since the concept has drawn support nationwide and his own approach has faltered.

The administration's alternative, expanding existing student grant programs to include more youngsters from middle-income families, is tied up in the House Rules Committee.

Corcoran believes the conference committee will make tuition tax credits more palatable to the president by limiting them to college students.

The tuition tax credits are retroactive to Aug. 1. So, if Congress approves the credit this year — and if Mr. Carter does not veto it — taxpayers could claim the credit on the income tax forms they will file in 1979 for the 1978 tax year.

But if the credits get lost in the rush to adjournment, tuition tax credit sponsors will have to "start from scratch" in January.

And taxpayers will have to scratch a little harder to settle with the Internal Revenue Service.

Boysfriends, Saints, Romeo to be staged

Two musicals, two comedies, the music and lyrics are the Stephen Brown, assistant professor in the School of Fine Arts and Communications, and Paul Gaston, associate professor of English language and literature.

It is based on a book by the English actress and playwright Deirdre Barb. "Time is the present," the place is the campus of an English university, and the plot involves things not being quite what they seem inside academia.

Performances have been planned for March 8, 9 and 10 at 8:15 p.m. and March 11 at 2:30 p.m. The musical will be directed by Wiltz.

"Dance in Concert," the second dance offering of the season, has been scheduled for May. Choreographed by the dance faculty, the evening of dance works will feature a restaging of the work "Venusian Diversions," with excerpts from Carl Orff's "Carmine Burana."

The production will be choreographed by Wiltz. Performances have been set for May 17, 18 and 19 at 8:15 p.m.

All theater and dance productions will be staged in the Communications Building theater. There is parking nearby.

TIS prices for the 1978-79 season will be: SUE students, $1; adults, $3; senior citizens, $2.50; high school students, $2; children under age 12, $1; and groups of 20 persons or more, $2.50 each.

PIKE HIKES
On Aug. 9, 1886, Lt. Zebulon Pike left St. Louis, Mo., to explore the sources of the Mississippi River.

"Tango" is a contemporary comic-drama in which a family with a reversed generation gap struggles to find values and order in a world gone mad with freedoms. It will be the University Theater's offering for February.

The direction of William Grivna, assistant professor of theater and dance, the Slawomir Mrozek production is scheduled Feb. 1, 2 and 3 at 8:15 p.m., with a matinee at 2:30 p.m. on Feb. 4.

The premiere of a new musical comedy, "But Shirley Fairweather!" will be the March offering. Responsible for

Master plan needed to curb auto thefts in nation—Dixon

The United States needs a master plan to control auto theft, Alan J. Dixon, Illinois secretary of state, says in remarks prepared for delivery tonight. He is the banquet speaker at the National Workshop on Auto Theft Prevention in the New York City Hilton Hotel.

The New York State Senate transportation committee is sponsoring the workshop. Attending are state motor vehicle administrators, legislators, police officials, prosecutors and representatives of business and industry.

"We need central direction to coordinate the many agencies government and private—responsible for controlling auto theft," Dixon says.

"We do work with each other, but communications and cooperation are not always the best. Many of us nibble at the edges of the problem instead of striking together at its heart."

He describes the workshop as a beginning toward "a grand design" to unify all sectors against the $2 billion-a-year racket.

In Illinois, where vehicle thefts hit an all-time high of 58,924 offenses last year, Dixon has taken three major new steps:

1. He assigned a title verification unit to check 3½ million titles a year for suspicion of alteration. They found 288 bogus titles in 18 months.

With the information and other leads, Dixon's investigators recovered 623 stolen vehicles in the same period.

2. Since June 1, Dixon has been issuing a new alter-proof certificate of title. It is printed on banknote paper with a border of intaglio steel printing.

A lamination strip covers the vital information so it can't be deleted and forged information can't be substituted.

3. Wreckers, rebuilders, recyclers and parts dealers licensed by Dixon are now required to keep better records of the vehicles and parts they handle.

Dixon urges new legislation to require identification of essential components are removed from.

He said the steering column ignition lock has slowed down auto thefts by amateur thieves, but is no problem to professionals.

Organized crime is increasingly active in vehicle theft, Dixon said.

"One indication is the low recovery rate of stolen cars, measured by value," he added.

"Another is the growth of organized theft rings known to the Justice Department — up from 125 to more than 400 since 1971.

"A third is the increased use of altered and counterfeit certificates of title to sell stolen cars. A fourth is the proliferation of 'chop shops.'"

"As we make it more difficult to produce a good title for a stolen car, the professionals will dismantle cars and sell the parts instead of reselling the whole car. It is easier to steal a car than to come up with a good title for it."

But this "should not alleviate our concern for widows."

Rather, it should raise our concern about elderly widows.

"The relative disinterest in discussing their own situation is likely to be an obstacle in social services and other 'treatment' paradigms."

The researcher suggested that intervention prior to the wife's death might later prevent some of the disabling grief which cripples many older men.

Such intervention might include training in household chores and teaching skills relevant to a "singles" lifestyle, she said.

She presented her findings at the American Psychological Association's 86th annual convention in Toronto, Canada, in September.

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND visit by Senator Sam M. Vadala (D), Edwardsville, who toured the SAC headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha, Neb. Pictured with Vadala is Brigadier General Hal C. Tyree, deputy chief of staff for air of the Illinois Air National Guard. During the trip to Offutt, "Senator Sam" gained insight into the role of SAC in this nation's defense structure through briefings on SAC's forces and its command control facilities, and by visiting the SAC underground command post. He flew to Offutt aboard a KC-135 Stratotanker from the IANG 126th Air Refueling Wing. During the flight, Vadala was able to observe how the tanker's flyable refueling boom is used in air-to-air refueling operations.

Men less able to cope with death of a spouse

(American Psychological Association)

One of the most arduous tasks an older person faces is coping with the death of a spouse after years of marital companionship. Carol J. Barrett, a psychologist at Wichita State University, claims that the experience of such a loss is a greater hardship for men than women.

Widows outnumber widowers by more than four to one, and tend to be younger as well. This implies that widows have access to a larger pool of same-sex widowed friends, and would be more inclined to receive social support from them following the loss.

Conversely, the option to remarry is likely to be available more often to widowed men. The psychologist's study of 279 older people, half of them widowed, showed consistent sex differences among six major areas of life functioning.

Following the spouse's death, "Widowers are more likely than their female counterparts to experience low morale, to feel lonely and dissatisfied with life, to predict poor future health, to need help with household responsibilities, to have difficulty obtaining necessary medical appointments, to eat poorly, and to experience negative attitudes toward their own continued learning."

"They are also less likely than widows to want a confidant or to want to talk about widowhood or death."

Barrett contrasted these differences between widows and widowers with those found among elderly married persons in her sample.

Surprisingly to her, among married senior citizens the women reported more dissatisfaction in many of the same areas: "... It is apparent," she said, "that the differences found were not a result of general trends for older women and men."

"Rather, the experience of widowhood led to unique differences between the sexes" in which men suffered a pronounced decrement in psycho-social functioning, household roles and nutrition.

Although many widows, like widowers, can and do become impaired by their spouse's death, special attention should be given to the neglected needs of the widower, Carol Barrett said.

But this "should not alleviate our concern for widows."

Rather, it should raise our concern about elderly widowers.

"The relative disinterest in discussing their own situation is likely to be an obstacle in social services and other 'treatment' paradigms."

The researcher suggested that intervention prior to the wife's death might later prevent some of the disabling grief which cripples many older men.

Such intervention might include training in household chores and teaching skills relevant to a "singles" lifestyle, she said.

Battery, weapon charges filed

John Burkett, 54, of 821 Twenty-fourth St., was arrested this week on charges of battery and unlawful use of a weapon after an incident in which he allegedly struck a taxi driver on the arm and told the driver he had a weapon.

The driver, Steven R. Taylor, who reported he had picked up Burkett as a fare at Bob's Tavern, 21st and Adams streets, said he turned his cab around and returned to the office of Dave's Taxi Service where he called police.

Officers alleged they found a large knife in a sheath in Burkett's shirt.

F-150 Styleside Pickup
in Gold Glow/Pastel Sand

For the past 13 years in a row, Ford's Wagon line-up has outsold all others.*

Ford LTD Squire Wagon in Medium Blue Glow
*Per R. L. Polk registration data through May 1978.

Fairmont Squire Wagon in White
*Per R. L. Polk registration data through May 1978.

LTD Here's a new wagon for the American Road from the Wagonmaster. Ford's all-new 6-passenger LTD for 1979 (eight passengers with optional dual-facing rear seats). A wagon with more handling ease, more window area, more passenger room than last year's Ford Country Squire. That's efficient design! That's riding in comfort! Try it.

FAIRMONT America's favorite... the best-selling 1978 wagon in the country.* Fairmont is trim, sleek and easy to handle, with plenty of room and comfort for five and a generous cargo area. Try this one on for size.

Pinto Squire Wagon in Tangerine

Captain's Club Wagon in Walnut Glow/Light Sand

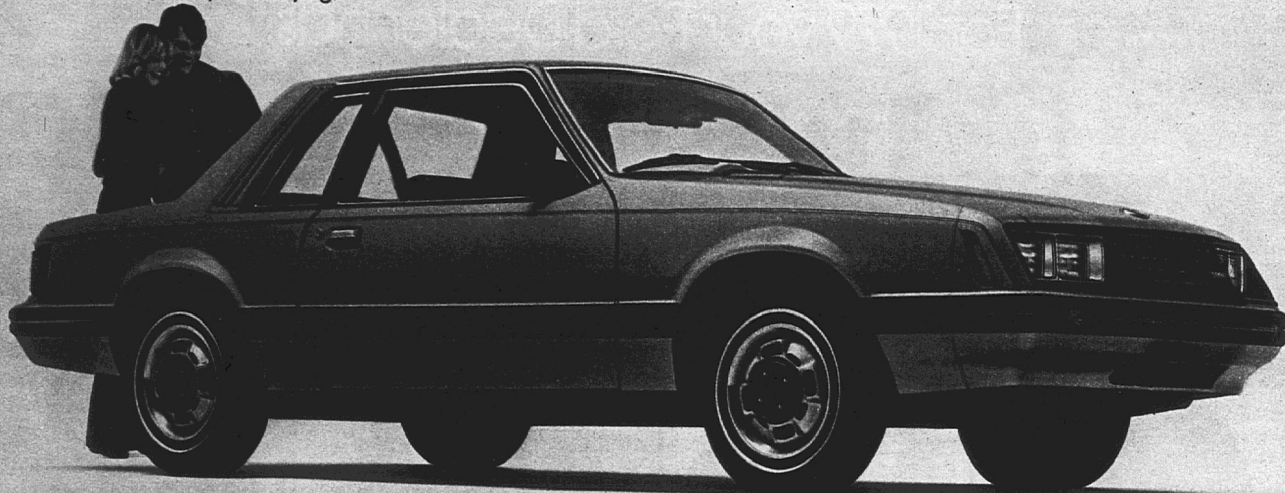

PINTO Since its introduction in 1972, Pinto Wagon has been a sales success. It has room, surprising cargo space, sporty good looks and many standard features for added comfort and convenience.

CAPTAIN'S CLUB The new 7-passenger model (shown above) has quad swivel/reclining seats and a seat-bed combo. Other Captain's Club models seat up to 15.

MUSTANG

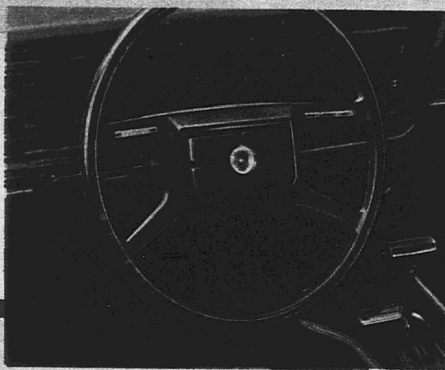

1979: The New Breed.

"A whole New Breed with sportscar styling."

Mustang 2-door Sport in Silver Metallic

Presenting a whole New Breed of Mustang for 1979—with dramatic new sportscar styling giving it one of the most aerodynamically efficient designs of any car now built in America. And precise handling with sportscar features like rack 'n pinion steering and a suspension system that helps flatten corners. Choose from four engines:

a standard 2.3 litre overhead cam engine or options of V-6, V-8...even a Turbocharged Mustang. This Mustang is roomier and wider than last year. Yet, with all this, it's still sticker priced to help you bring one home. In 2-door or 3-door models. At your Ford Dealer's...take a test drive in the new 1979 Ford Mustang.

"Let's go for a test drive."

Mustang 3-door Sport in Tangerine

LTD

1979:
A New American Road Car.

"It's sure got the room we need."

"And the luxury we've been promising ourselves."

Ford LTD Landau 4-door
in Red Glow with Dark Red vinyl roof

Introducing the most completely new LTD in 14 years. Truly a new American Road Car for 1979. With more passenger room than last year for road car comfort on long trips, more handling ease and more window area. In addition to its standard 5.0 litre V-8 engine, every 1979 LTD comes equipped with important full-size car features in 2-door, 4-door and wagon models. ✓

LTD for 1979—a road car to take you across town or across the country. Prove it... take a test drive.

More about mileage. At the time of publication, 1979 EPA estimates were unavailable. See your local Ford Dealer for actual 1979 EPA mileage economy estimates.

"Test drive it and see why we call it the New American Road Car."

Ford LTD Landau 2-door in Black with Camel vinyl roof

"It's more than a car. It's a legend."

THUNDERBIRD

Come fly with me!

Thunderbird Heritage in Maroon

This new 1979 Thunderbird Heritage is the most exclusive Thunderbird we offer. As you'd expect from a car that has become a legend in luxury, this very special Thunderbird comes with power front disc brakes, automatic transmission, AM/FM Stereo Search Radio, power steering, power windows, six-way driver's seat, power door locks, air conditioning and more. See what it's like to drive a "legend." At your Ford Dealer's.

Traditional style and value in a sporty mid-size car.

If you're in the market for a 6-passenger car, 2-door or 4-door, take a ride in Ford's LTD II. It's a trim, sporty, mid-size car at a surprising price. But you get the room, luxury and standard features which are optional on many other cars: automatic transmission, power steering, power front disc brakes, V-8 engine, steel-belted radials and more.

LTD II

"It's like they made it for me... sporty and practical!"

LTD II 2-door Brougham in Pastel Chamois

GRANADA

An American Classic.

"It sure looks like a Mercedes."

"Except for the price."

Granada Ghia 4-door in Silver Metallic/Black

If you want the best of both worlds—European luxury car styling—and a Granada price—see your Ford Dealer. Make your own comparison.

Compare Granada's elegant styling and clean functional lines with far more expensive cars like Mercedes-Benz. Its ride is largely due to Granada's independent front suspension with stabilizer bar and Hotchkiss rear suspension. In 2-door, 4-door, Granada Ghia and ESS models.

PINTO

A new design for '79.

"A new ESS model with sporty European styling."

New Pinto ESS in Silver Metallic

"Another new model... with all of Pinto's standard features."

New Pinto 3-door with Cruising Package in Polar White

"New up front and in the back!"

"And new inside."

New Pinto 2-door in Bright Red

A new look inside and out for '79. Pinto, more than 2½ million sold since its introduction, offers fresh choices like the new ESS with a sporty European look. And Pinto comes with standard equipment like bucket seats, AM radio (may be deleted for credit), electric rear window defroster, front disc brakes, tinted glass all around, electronic ignition, rack and pinion steering and more. All this value... at a surprising price.

FIESTA

Wundercar.

"Built in Germany and backed by Ford!"

"No wonder it's Europe's success car!"

Fiesta Sport in Yellow

Fiesta Ghia in Dark Blue

Ford's imported Fiesta really is a little Wundercar. It has front-wheel drive and Michelin steel-belted radial tires for sure-footed traction to handle ice and snow. There's rack and pinion steering and other standard features that would warm a car buff's heart. And over 5,400

Ford Dealers coast to coast provide convenient service for your Wundercar. Take a test drive, now.

*Per sales comparison of new car nameplates in the first 16 months.

"Love the styling."

"And the 2.3 litre economy."

FAIRMONT

The best selling new car ever introduced.

Fairmont 4-door in Dark Pine Metallic with Chamois vinyl roof

In the 1978 model year more Fairmonts were sold than any other new car nameplate ever. Now Ford introduces the 1979 Fairmont. Priced right, it provides roomy comfort for five. In fact, Fairmont has almost 90% of the room of most full-size cars* and great EPA mileage estimates*:

In 2-door, 4-door and 4-door wagon models.

*Based on EPA Interior Volume Index compared to 1978 models. *See mileage box on page three for more information about EPA mileage economy ratings and estimates.

FUTURA

The Futura is now.

"Its styling is now."

"And so is the price."

Sporty Futura Coupe in Midnight Blue Metallic

There's a unique personal car for now—the '79 Ford Fairmont Futura. Futura gives you advanced styling with the look of tomorrow, now.

Futura has the space efficiency for now...with comfortable seating for five. Futura has great EPA gas mileage ratings* and a price that says why wait. With Ford's Fairmont Futura...the future isn't someday. It's here right now! Take a test drive at your local Ford Dealer...today.
